PERJURY IS CHARGED IN THE HARTJE CASE

HOW THE STRIKE AT YARDS ENDED

Superintendent Palmer and Scott Make Statements of Facts in Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—The statement given out by men claiming to represent the striking warehouse men in Oakland yesterday to the effect that the Southern Pacific Company had agreed to the demand of the men is declared by officers of the railroad to be entirely false. General Supt. W. S. Palmer of the Southern Pacific made the following statement today:

"The statement that we have raised the wages of freight handlers in Oakland is false. The men who have been mentioned as having settled the difficulty with us were, as a matter of fact, discharged by the freight handlers yesterday as a committee and another substituted. This committee requested a special conference in reply to a notice which had been sent to the men by myself and Supt. Scott early yesterday morning that we could not treat with the men who had left our employ, but that their positions were open for them to return to work at the wages they had been receiving. Before the committee was changed Mr. Scott was authorized to meet them, with the result that the men voted voluntarily to return to work at the old wages. The question of overtime was not discussed. The question of wages will be given consideration by our company's officers and a definite reply made thereto on the first of August. There was no promise or even inference of a change in the wage schedule. The men on our transfer platforms are mostly old employes, loyal to their work and to the company, and the unexpected walkout of the men at the Kirkham Street Station without any notice to us, was, we have reason to believe, the result of agitation of employes who have been with us but a few weeks.

"The reports about trouble with our switchmen are false. They are living up manfully to the agreement which we have with the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. They have placed in the hands of that organization certain questions relating to the adjustment of wage schedules, and the subject will, of course, be taken up with us in the usual course in accordance with our agreement."

The fact that a settlement of the troubles between the freight handlers and the Southern Pacific Company was effected and the men went back to work yesterday afternoon has caused several misstatements to be made, according to the railroad officials.

Instead of the demands of the men being met in full a compromise was effected so that the freight handlers here may receive the same wages as those at work in San Francisco They returned to work at the the old rates of twenty-two and one-half cents an hour.

SCOTT'S STATEMENT.

In discussing the settlement today, Division Superintendent W. R. Scott said:

"A committee composed of F. E. Luhden, A. Haywood and D. Sullivan, called upon J. W. Dickinson, head of the freight department, and advised him that the freight handlers had deposed the original committee and that they were authorized to take up the matter in behalf of the men.

THE TERMS.

"I instructed Mr. Dickinson to bring the committee to my office, where the matter was discussed. They admitted that they had acted hastily in taking the action they did and stated that they desired to return to service and would like to go to work on the same terms as that governing the freight handlers in San Francisco, which is in effect that the regular rate is twenty-two and one-half cents per hour, but for those working a full month without laying off or quitting the service, rate of twenty-five cents per hour would be allowed

"They were informed that the only terms on which they could return to service would be those in effect at the time they left the service, that the matter would be taken up with the management and they would be advised by August 1st whether or not the increase on above lines would be granted. In any event, there was to be no increase in rates before that time.

"This was satisfactory to the committee and they went back and reported to the balance of the men, who returned to work in a body at 3 p. m.

OVERTIME.

"There has been some talk of the men not receiving pay for overtime. I discussed that matter with the committee and the men who compose it could not recall any particular case I told them that I had never expected anyone to do work for nothing; that the men would be paid for the time they worked at the regular rate All the men were paid off when they struck, but they have all been allowed to return to work."

WILLIAM J. BRYAN VISITS KING EDWARD

KING EDWARD GREETING W. J. BRYAN.

He Meets the Monarch of England in Buckingham Palace.

LONDON, July 26.—William Jennings Bryan, who was introduced by Ambassador Reid, was received in private audience by King Edward at Buckingham palace today The visit was paid at the king's special request, his majesty having notified Mr. Reid that he desired to meet Mr. Bryan.

The interview was quite informal, and was marked by the pleasing cordiality which the king is accustomed to show Americans in whom he is interested. Only the king, Mr. Reid and Mr. Bryan were present.

The conversation largely turned on the subject of peace and the conference of the interparliamentary union, with the objects of which the king showed himself thoroughly in accord.

Subsequently the king received some eighty members of the interparliamentary union in the throne room. Congressman Richard Bartholdt of Missouri, T. E Burton of Ohio and Rockwood Hoar of Massachusetts, representing the American group.

Mr. Bryan accompanied his three compatriots at this function, which was somewhat in the nature of a levee.

King Edward, who wore plain clothes, stood in front of the throne while the visitors filed past. As each person was introduced the king shook hands with him, making occasional brief remarks to the most prominent members of the party.

TAXPAYERS SATISFIED

Little Complaint About Assessor Dalton's Figures.

So little complaint has been found with the assessment rolls as prepared by Assessor Dalton that the board of equalization met today only for the purpose of adjourning until tomorrow morning, and will adjourn sine die Saturday afternoon.

There have been but three or four minor claims brought to the attention of the board, but so far no corporation or property holder of wealth has asked for reduction of assessment. Chairman Mitchell of the board of supervisors, which sits as the board of equalization, does not anticipate any further request for reduction of the assessment rolls.

POLICE SOLVE MYSTERY OF THEFTS

BOSTON, July 26.—Two arrests, which are said by the police to clear up complaints of systematic thievery in the wool warehouse of Louis Foss & Company, No. 549 Atlantic avenue, for the past six months, and by which the firm has lost stock valued at about $10,000, were made today when Thomas O'Malley and Michael F. King, of South Boston, were taken into custody, charged with the larceny of two bales of merino wool valued at $1000. O'Malley has been a trusted employe of the Foss company for fifteen years. The police alleged that O'Malley could secretly turn over bales of wool or cotton to King, who is a teamster.

CRISIS IS OVER, SAYS RUSSIA

But, as Matter of Fact, Volcano Is Ready to Explode.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 26.—The government is using every means at its disposal to create the impression both at home and abroad that the crisis has been successfully passed, and that the probability of a general upheaval has disappeared. The semi-official press is filled with comforting assurances that the government now has a firm hold of the situation, and that the confusion and demoralization in the counsels of the opposing political organizations, produced by the coup d'etat, render united action impossible.

STRIKE SITUATION.

Moreover, the official reports seek to create the impression that there has been little response among the masses to the plan for a general strike as a preliminary to a universal uprising. The application of the old methods, the government confidently asserts, has already landed the most dangerous of the leaders behind the bars, and much stress is laid on the importance

MEET IN TOMBS

Mother, Wife and Sister Kiss and Make Up in Prison.

NEW YORK, July 26.—An affectionate scene, in which Mrs. William Thaw, her daughter, Mrs. George L. Carnegie, and Harry K. Thaw's wife participated, took place at the Tombs prison today while the three women were paying a visit to Harry K. Thaw. Thaw's wife had been with him half an hour when his mother and sister arrived. The young wife and the prisoner's mother kissed each other several times. On leaving the Tombs the three women drove to the office of Clifford W. Hartridge, who has charge of Thaw's defense. Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw said:

"Everything is all right now."

SAYS HE'S BROTHER OF ALLEGED MURDERER

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 26.—The man who was identified yesterday as Frank J. Constantine and accused of the murder of Mrs. Louise H. Gentry in Chicago on January 6, today declared that he is Fritz, a brother of the man wanted in Chicago, and that he was at work as a street car conductor in New York city the day of the murder.

Constantine said that he worked continuously as a street car conductor in New York from December 28 to January 26, when he was dismissed, having had accidents while on duty.

JAIL DOORS ARE TO BE OPENED

Hartje Witnesses Are to Be Prosecuted for False Swearing.

PITTSBURG, July 26.—Another coachman in the person of Wilbur Ashby of Washington, D. C., husband of Blanche Ashby, was called to the stand today in the Hartje case to confirm what other members of the colored delegation from Washington had said regarding the alleged statements of the Ashby woman. The witness repeated the same story that the others had done—that his wife had said Mrs. Hartje offered her $300 and a bank account for the baby if Blanche would swear that Clifford Hooe had never slept in the spare room of the Hartje house.

In cross-examination a letter which Ashby had written to Mrs. Hartje was placed in evidence. In it he told Mrs. Hartje that if "she could pay Blanche for speaking for her, Hartje could do the same."

All the testimony on that point was to the effect that Ashby had written if Mrs. Hartje could pay Blanche for "lying" Hartje could afford to pay for the truth.

There were persistent rumors about the court house today that some of the witnesses who have testified at the Hartje trial are to be arrested. These rumors, however, could not be traced to a reliable source.

Attorney J. Scott Ferguson of counsel for Augustus Hartje stated today that he has received four threatening letters since the divorce case opened. The letters were from different cities, but the last one received was from New York and was signed "Southerner." The writer declared that violent harm would come to the attorney if he persisted in his efforts to incriminate Mrs. Hartje.

Mr. Ferguson said he was not paying any attention to the missives.

MUST PREVENT ALL MEETINGS

Provincial Governors Ordered to Disperse Members of Constitutional Party.

PARIS, July 26.—The Temps correspondent at St. Petersburg telegraphs that the provincial governors have been ordered to prevent all meetings of members of the constitutional Democratic party, and also members of the Group of Toil who belonged to the outlawed parliamentary employing the military to disperse such meetings.

INFANTRY ORDERED TO AUSTIN, TEXAS

WASHINGTON, July 26.—As a result of the abandonment of Fort Niobrara, Neb., the Twenty-fifth infantry has been ordered to posts along the Rio Grande in Texas. The regiment will participate in the maneuvers of the militia and regular army at Austin, Texas, before taking its new stations. The maneuvers will begin at Austin tomorrow and after their conclusion the companies of the Twenty-fifth infantry will be distributed among the Texas posts as follows:

Fort Bliss, headquarters band and companies E, F, G and H; Fort Brown, companies B, C and D; Fort McIntosh, companies I, K, L and M.

War department officials deny that the movement of the Twenty-fifth infantry to the Mexican border was influenced by the recent riots at Cananea, Mexico, and the rumors of an anti-foreign movement in Mexico.

Yamaja, secretary of the Japanese exhibit at Venice, Cal., says that he is in receipt of word that Prince Kanning, a general in the Japanese army and a cousin and personal representative of the Japanese Emperor, will reach San Francisco next week and that he comes bearing a message of national sympathy from the Emperor in connection with the recent disaster.

HAD TO BUY BACK HIS OWN CLOTHING

To have to buy back his own coat and vest was the experience yesterday of N. Schofield of 1215 Twelfth street. Mr. Schofield was at work on a building which is under course of construction at the corner of Third and Clay streets. He left his garments in the lower part of the building. A prowler came along, liked the quality of the material, and took it to Lipkay's second hand store. Schofield missed the garments and started for his home in his shirt sleeves. He thought he would visit the second hand stores and look about for his coat and vest. He found them at Lipka's and they were returned to him upon the payment of fifty cents. He reported the theft to the police.

MISSING MAN MAY BE DEAD

Search for Walter Hitchcock Ends in Probate Court.

Walter K. Hitchcock, owner of real property in this county of unknown value, has not been seen or heard of for over seven years. He was last seen on January 1, 1898, and it is presumed that he is dead. Today Public Administrator George Gray filed a petition for letters of administration of the Hitchcock estate through his attorney, John S. DeLancey. Ray M. Hitchcock, a son, seventeen years of age, is heir at law, but his residence is unknown.

Attorney De Lancey is unable to give any information concerning the history of Hitchcock, but as he has been missing and unheard of for seven years, he is dead in the eyes of the law. Should he be again heard from, however, all proceedings in the administration of the estate would be brought to an end.

An attempt to locate the son has been unavailing.

SQUID AND SNAIL TEMPT THE PALATE

WOD'S HOLE, Mass., July 25.—To prove that the cheapest of sea food, abundantly within reach of a slim pocketbook, is not only nourishing but also calculated to appeal to the palate of an epicure, Dr. I. A. Field of Harvard made an excursion into the culinary art and figured as chef and guest at a remarkable supper given by Dr. F. D Sumner of New York City College to sixty biologists, representing nearly all the eastern universities and colleges

THE MENU.

APPETIZER.

Fried and Pickled Squid.

SOUP.

Whelk Chowder.

ENTREES.

Boiled Snail. Hors d'Oeuvres.
Sand Lance Sardines. Slices of Lemon

The guests were much in the condition of Alice in Wonderland at her famous feast. They were introduced to the dishes as they went along, fortunately with no embarrassing results. The dishes fulfilled Professor Field's three standards of the value of foods. They were good to the taste, enough so to insure them popularity; they were digestible and they contained tissue-building substance.

When the snail was attacked, Professor Field introduced it as an American of fifty years' citizenship. It was first seen in Canadian domains on the coast of Halifax in 1850, but it is now common as far south as Long Island.

But the dish, par excellence, was the sand lance. Everybody vowed it was delicious. Those who had toyed uncertainly with the courses that preceded were anxious to fill up space with the tidbit of the evening. But the professor little realizing the run there would be upon this particular delicacy, had prepared all too little. He was called upon for the receipt and admitted that he had first steamed the beasties under pressure and then preserved them in oil. No sardines offered in the market here can compare with them in flavor, according to the experts who devoured them, and Silver Sides a la Field are already expected to have a fashionable vogue.

DOG KEEPS SMILING NOW

WILKESBARRE, July 25. — Dr. Fred S. Birchard, of Scranton, has a dog with a solid gold tooth. The dog is proud of it. The animal is a valuable English beagle. A few days ago, noticing that one of its front teeth was very much decayed, Dr. Birchard took the dog to a dentist friend. The dentist suggested that the best thing to do was to insert a gold tooth.

"I'll do it now," said the dentist, who is a great lover of animals. The operation took a little more than half an hour. All that time the intelligent animal laid back in his master's arms, submitting with an occasional whine of pain.

Now it sports about with its fine gold tooth, a curiosity for all the small boys of the community.

TO HOLD INQUEST.

The inquest into the death of the unknown man who died at the Receiving hospital, after being brought from Rodeo, Contra Costa county, where he was mangled by a train, will be held Saturday evening at seven o'clock. The remains of the man are still unidentified.

WIFE WOULDN'T TAKE HIS MONEY

Colored Porter Tells Court Why He Didn't Provide for Baby.

Deneal Amos, colored, was before Police Judge Samuels this morning for failing to provide for his fourteen month old baby. Amos is a porter in the employ of a barber shop at 1182 Washington street. His employer was in court this morning and pleaded his porter's cause. He told the court that hereafter he would look out for the welfare of the infant of the erring Deneal.

Amos stated that he had endeavored to provide for his wife and baby and that they would have nothing to do with him. He said they would not even come around to take his money. The defendant was ordered to subscribe $2.50 per week for his baby's support.

EVERY SICK DOLLY ESCAPED THE FIRE

NEW YORK, July 26.—"The doll hospital's burning."

This word was flashed about the tenement section of East Fifty-ninth street yesterday, causing the children to troop out of the big tenements like bees out of a hive, for Sylvester's doll hospital has cared for every sick dolly in the neighborhood for years.

With the children came their mothers who, when they were young, had taken their dolls to "Dr." Sylvester. Within five minutes there was a crush of women and children in front of the doll hospital from the windows of which smoke was coming out in little puffs.

The firemen rushed into the doll hospital, prepared to carry out the little china and wax cripples, but when they got inside they found the fire was next door in a heap of rubbish and coal tar stored in a basement.

"Oh, ain't it dreadful," chorused girls of all ages, as they saw the smoke coming out of the hospital windows. "Think of the dollies that are burning to death!"

As soon as the children learned that the fire was next door at 229, they lost further interest in it beyond fearing that smoke might injure the dollies.

"Dr." Sylvester, the chief surgeon of the hospital, came out and assured his patrons that not a doll had been injured by the fire. Some of the little girls were incredulous and waited until the firemen left in order that they might go inside and visit their little friends.

The fire did little damage, but because of the smoke three firemen, Capt. John Donovan and Fireman Tom McGann, of Engine Company No. 8, and Lieut. John Finnell, of Truck No. 16, were overcome. Later they went back to work and within a few minutes the fire was out.

GETS RELIGION, SETTLES DEBTS

GUTHRIE, Okla, July 26.—J. R. Peters, living near Esbon, has received a letter from Andrew Hurst, a former resident of the Ebson locality, but now a citizen of Congleton, Texas. Hurst encloses a five-dollar bill and says in explanation "This pays for damages I did to a sod-house of yours eighteen years ago and for some watermelons I stole from you about thirteen years ago.

"I was led into it by others and am sorry for it and hope you will forgive me. I have been converted and am going to make everything right with my fellow man. I served the devil for twenty-four years and am going to serve the Lord the balance of my life."

He closes the letter by asking for the addresses of several other persons, with whom he desires to make things right.

RECEPTION TO WEHE.

BERKELEY, July 26.—A reception will be given Vanclief Wehe and his bride on Saturday night at 2224 Carlton street. It is but a family gathering to welcome the young man and his bride, who have just returned from their honeymoon trip in the south.

CAR TRAGEDY IS RECALLED

Letters on Estate of J. D. O'Brien Sought by Peer Tiffany.

Peer Tiffany, through his attorneys, Harding & Monroe, today filed a petition for letters of administration in the matter of the estate of the late John D. O'Brien. The estate, which consists of farming lands in this county, does not exceed $10,000 in value. No will was left by deceased.

The death of O'Brien resulted in an investigation by Sheriff Barnet, his mutilated body having been found on the San Leandro car tracks about three weeks ago. It was at first presumed that he was the victim of a murderer or murderers, owing to a mysterious wound on the back of the head, but thorough investigation resulted in the conclusion that O'Brien had fallen asleep on the car tracks and was run over by an electric car.

O'Brien was unmarried and his mother, Ellen M. O'Brien, is the sole heir at law. Peer Tiffany, a brother-in-law of deceased, was nominatepd as administrator by Mrs. O'Brien, the mother.

A petiton for letters of administration was also filed by C. E. Priest in the estate of the late E. L Priest. The estate consists of a residence in this city, life insurance policies and personal property not exceeding $20,000 in value. The heirs are the widow, Emma I. Priest; C. E Priest, Leslie Priest and Edward L. Priest, sons of deceased.

BEES SAVE MEN FROM BAD FALL

JACKSON, N. H., July 26.—Two young men who tried to descend Mount Washington in the night were probably saved from instant death or mortal injury by a swarm of bees that had hived in an old log.

The men, Harry Short and Burt Young, of Portland, had never been up the mountain before, but were so confident that they could find their way down over the foot trail by night that they "stumped" each other to try it. Several with more level heads advised them to remain until morning, as it looked as though it might storm, but they would not, and when the moon came up they started.

Ordinarily a person would have little difficulty in making the descent even at night, but on this occasion a severe mountain storm burst when the adventurers were half way down and they became so bewildered that they got off the trail and were soon plunging through the woods. It was pitch dark by this time and they should have camped and waited for daylight. But instead they kept recklessly on.

It later developed that they were on the bank of a precipice heading straight for a 20-foot fall when the bees intercepted them. The insects arose in a swarm when the boys hit their log hive and drove them back some little distance. Here they finally decided to stay until the storm passed. When it became light the young men saw what they had escaped.

TRAINED DOGFISH FINDS GAME FOR MASTER.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., July 26.—One of the most successful fishermen in this vicinity is Tom Moore, and he has not been known to handle a line in years. He gets them with a rifle.

There is quite a knack about shooting fish. On account of refraction the hunter must aim an inch or two below the game, otherwise he would miss it entirely.

Moore says that only a pot hunter will shoot a fish that is motionless. It's almost as bad as killing a quail on the ground. Where he finds a school of swimmers he flushes them and kills them as they try to escape.

The most difficult fish to shoot is the pickerel. Skimming through the lily pads, a streak of dull grey, it can only be hit by the most expert marksman.

Moore has, after considerable effort, trained a dogfish to find his game. This rare fish has a highly developed scent, and one of its good points is that it retrieves the dead game as well as a setter.

MORGAN ARRIVES.

NEW YORK, July 26.—J. P. Morgan arrived from Liverpool today on the steamer Baltic

LOVE OF LAW COSTS A WIFE

German Judge Said to Have Neglected Woman While He Read.

Default was today entered in the divorce suit filed by Alfred Cless against Bertha Cless and the case was referred to Court Commissioner Clarence Cowell for the taking of testimony.

Cless, a former superior judge in Germany, who now lives in Berkeley, has brought suit on the ground of desertion. This is his second matrimonial venture, he having married his second wife in 1896, his first wife being dead. Mrs. Cless is now in Monterey and it is stated that she left her husband because he was away from home much of the time, he daily visiting the law library at Berkeley and poring over legal documents for hours at a time. His love for legal lore was not to the liking of Mrs. Cless and she decided to leave him. When the wife called the attention of her husband to his actions, it is said he failed to follow her suggestions to read less law and there was a separation.

Mrs. Cless failed to answer the suit within the time allowed by law, and the default was entered.

SAY CRISIS IS PASSED

of the capture of a number of revolutionary ringleaders at Moscow, which, it turns out, was the result of information obtained at the time of the capture of the officers of the Misia here.

Among the papers then seized, the government claims, were the complete plans of a revolutionary military organization, which enabled the authorities to close the revolutionary channels in the army.

ALARMED OVER FINANCES.

The government's sudden optimism, however, is in reality traceable to the consternation over the disastrous fall in Russian securities at home and abroad. The one thing which the government cannot do without is money. In the response to the outlawed parliament's appeal to the people to refuse to pay taxes any longer, the whole future depends on the ability of the government to continue its foreign loan to operations of the future.

The second installment of the big loan projected prior to the assembling of parliament is due August 1, and the outlook in Russia has frightened the holders into refusing to pay in any further cash.

The situation has evidently caused quite as much alarm among the financiers who underwrote the loan abroad as it has at the treasury here.

MANY TELEGRAMS.

Finance Minister Kokovsoff has been bombarded by telegrams from French, English and German bankers urging on him the necessity of supporting the market. This accounts for the activity of the government bankers in bidding up prices on the Bourse here and at Moscow yesterday, as well as for the rosy view of the future sent abroad by the official telegraph agency last night under M. Kokovsoff's inspiration.

The Office Boy and the City Hall

Say, here's the best joke I have heard yet and I heard this one myself. Yesterday I was over to the Women's Exchange to lunch and as I came out, two ladies were ahead of me and as I passed them at Fourteenth street, I heard the eldest one say: "Now Sarah, that is our City Hall" and Sarah turned her head to take a look. Now what I want to know is this: "Who told the elderly lady that that old dilapidated pile of painted redwood was Oakland's City Hall, and what did Sarah think." Answers can be sent to me at any time. Gosh, I just had to roar and I heard Sarah say: "I wonder what tickles that little boy" and then I had another fit and I'm laughing yet. Just wait until Mayor Mott comes home and walks up those steps into his Oakland home. Gee, I'll bet he will say things under his breath all right—all right. Say, we are showing the swellest bunch of $2.50 Hats you ever saw. Look at our Hat window. Every hat like a picture I tell you our Dutch friend, the hat man, is all right. First I thought care wouldn't make good but he is right there with the bells and knows how to ring 'em. Justrite Hats are Heeseman Hats and at $2.50 they beat the Dutch. Look for this house inside the band.

CONDEMNS PHYSICIANS

Lecturer Objects to Practice of Calling Consumption Heart Failure.

BERKELEY, July 26.—Charles Gilman Hyde, in a lecture on sanitary science before the students of the summer session, condemned the practice of physicians when a patient dies of consumption of reporting that the patient had met death from heart failure.

"These doctors say that they do this to save the honor of the state, but where the philosophy of the thing comes in I do not see," said Professor Hyde this morning.

"These men are simply not truthful," he continued, "and only hurt the authority and themselves when they make such reports to the municipalities to which they belong."

LIVING OVER A VOLCANO.

As a matter of fact, the government can hardly be blind to the evidence under its nose that it is living over a volcano, and that the danger of an eruption is far from ended. For the last forty-eight hours the central committees of the Social Democrats, Social Revolutionists, Peasant League, Railroad Men's union and Telegraphers' union and the military committee have been conferring both separately and jointly with the parliamentary groups, not only on the question of calling a general strike, but actually on the question of attempting a counter coup d'etat by setting up a provisional government.

No final decision has yet been taken, but practically all the proletarian organization, including that of the railroad, excepting the telegraphers, have already pronounced in favor of this step.

SECRETLY AGREE.

The members of the Group of Toil and Social Democrats of the outlawed parliament believe that another course is open and are irrevocably committed on the surface, with the Constitutional Democrats, to discountenancing any active revolutionary step, but secretly they have agreed to support or join in it if it can be successfully inaugurated.

Over a hundred of them met last night in Finland, under the presidency of Prof. Milukoff. Conferences will be held by representatives of other groups this afternoon, and the possible extent of the support which a revolutionary movement will receive from the army is therefore vital.

OATH TO FIGHT.

At Helsingfors, Finland, Tuesday night, 1500 soldiers and sailors of the garrison took an oath to fight on the side of the people.

It is quite apparent to disinterested observers of the situation that the government in entering on its present policy, made perhaps a fatal blunder in lacking the hardihood to arrest the members of the outlawed parliament. In its desire to "save its face" it feared to go further than prohibiting the publication of the address of parliament to the country, and preventing the members from giving public accounts of their stewardship to their constituents.

CONSPIRACY EASY.

But this decision left the members of parliament practically free to conduct a conspiracy against the life of the government. When the plot is complete and the signal has gone forth, arrests will be useless, and the government will again find that it acted too late in closing the political clubs, which has been followed by the closing of all workmen's unions and suspected tea houses.

ISSUES WARNING.

The prefect of police has issued another proclamation warning the population that persons guilty of armed resistance to the authority of the government or police, or of attempts to commit political crimes will be given over immediately to the tender mercies of military court martial, while lesser offenses (formation of leagues, incitement to strikers, etc.), will be punishable administratively without trial, by a fine of $1500 and imprisonment of from three to six months.

The reports from the provinces indicate that the authorities do not fear to employ harsher measures than used at the capital. The editors of confiscated papers are compelled to give hostages as guarantees against attempts at illegal publication.

PLAN NEW CABINET.

In spite of the rebuffs received from M. Shipoff and others whom it approached, the government has not abandoned the idea of inducing men of standing in the country outside of bureacratic circles to enter a reorganized or enlarged cabinet, or of creating an advisory council. The emperor in this connection has renewed the pressure brought to bear upon M. Guchkoff, the prominent Moderate member of the Moscow Zemstov.

TO PROPITIATE POLAND.

There are also indications that the government, following the complete surrender to the Democrats of Finland, will seek to propitiate Poland and the Baltic provinces by concessions for the people, divorcing them from the revolutionary movement in Russia proper.

The assembly of nobles and representatives from towns and peasantry is now meeting at Riga and it is believed that overtures have been made by some of the Polish leaders for a similar conference at Warsaw to discuss the present needs of the Poles. However, in the Baltic provinces at least, the government is relying for pacification upon the German aristocracy, who are more detested by the native Letts and Lithuanians than the Russians themselves.

Only the Pure Kind of Coffee, Tea and Milk at Spencer's Quick Meal Cafe.

Spencer, the "phonograph man," is no longer amusing people at 472 Seventh street, but he is in the same location, appeasing the appetites of the hungry, and in this regard he is as big a success as furnishing music and pictures in entertaining his patrons. The instantaneous prosperity of Colonel Spencer can be attributed to his carrying out the "pure food" motto in feeding his customers. In coffee, tea and milk you get at the Quick Service Cafe absolutely the pure kind. Other foods are likewise—so it is no wonder "The Little Restaurant" is enjoying such a lucrative business. If you miss the train at the Broadway depot step into Spencer's. He will serve your meal with dispatch and in a way to meet your hearty approval.

Family Wines Cannot Be Too Pure

None quite so pure as the product of the Giersberger vineyards.

It used to be the fashion for French tables wines to control the market in California. Now the pure wines of California, of which the Giersberger products lead, are greatly in demand in the cafes of critical Paris.

There must be a reason.

SHE CAN END ALL

So Says an Aged Lady When She Cannot Get Aid.

"I am 86 years old, am a refugee from San Francisco We lost everything, and owing to the red tape that is in vogue with the management of the relief work, I have waited over three weeks ago get some relief without satisfaction. They even went so far as to intimate that they smelt liquor on our breaths, and insulted us. I don't know what else there is for me to do but get into some room and take gas to end it all."

The speaker was the widow of the late James Ross of Wisconsin, a noted editor and orator in his day, who had the distinction of having stumped the East for every president from Buchanan down to Hayes, who for seven years conducted temperance lectures, and who some years ago dropped dead in Washington, D. C., where he was eulogized and given burial with imposing services.

Mrs. Ross, the little widow, had just applied to the local Associated Charities as to when and how she could get relief for herself and daughter.

"They told us in San Francisco," said Mrs. Ross, "that our case had been referred to the Oakland Associated Charities. When I called here the young lady asked us a hundred questions and told us our case would first be investigated. They have been doing that for over four weeks now. Suddenly the young woman thought she detected the smell of liquor on my daughter's breath and began giving us a temperance lecture, while the other assistants were heard to snicker I was only surprised that she did not otherwise assail our characters. I'll tell you truly, I cannot stand this any longer. My home State sent out $65,000 for the relief of the distressed, and we from that State cannot even get a room for our shelter It is the worst illustration of man's inhumanity to man that I have ever experienced or heard of I am willing to sell books but they told me at the Associated Charities that this was no kind of work for me I don't know what I shall do All that remains is to get a room and take some gas I can end it all by the gas route."

And tears rolled down the old lady's cheeks She stated that she would make one more effort to reach the ear of Dr Devine head of the relief work in San Francisco

EASTERN CAPITAL FOR SAN FRANCISCO BUSINESS

Wanamaker & Brown Secure St. Ignatius Church Site on Van Ness Avenue.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Site—St Ignatius, Van Ness and Hayes.

Rent—$4500 a month first year, $4750 second year, and $5000 for the next three years

Lessor—Benjamin F. Brown, of Wanamaker & Brown, Chicago department store proprietors.

Object—Will build great department store, using $75,000 temporary structure.

The site of St Ignatius church and college at Van Ness avenue and Hayes street has been leased to Benjamin S. Brown, member of the firm of Wanamaker & Brown, proprietors of one of Chicago's greatest department stores. As soon as the debris can be cleared away work will be begun on a $75,000 temporary building, which will be opened as a department store when completed.

The lease, which has just been made by the Jesuit Fathers, is for a term of five years. It covers the entire site of the great church, 275 feet on Van Ness avenue and 884.9 on Haight street. It is specified that a structure costing at least $50 000 shall be constructed, but Mr Brown already has announced his intention of putting up a building worth $75 000, and which is to be used as a department store. Throughout the transaction Mr. Brown refused to say who he represented, if any one, contenting himself with the statement that he was "formerly of Chicago, now of San Francisco."

This transaction is one of the largest made since the fire destroyed San Francisco. There had been talk of astern capital coming into this field, and of the contemplated establishment of big department stores, but nothing ever came of this Now Wanamaker & Brown of Chicago will be the first to put foreign capital into a big store, and they seem anxious to have the work of building begun at once. This firm must not be confused with John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, the great department store owner. Although having the same name, it is understood that Mr. Wanamaker of Chicago is not related to the Philadelphian. But the firm of Brown & Wanamaker are big people in Chicago, where they have one of the largest stores, although it is not as large an establishment as is Marshall Field's. Their Chicago store is on Wabash avenue, between Jackson boulvard and Van Buren street.

There have been such tremendous rentals along Van Ness that it will be interesting to know just how much Mr. Brown is paying for this ideal spot. By the terms of the lease Mr. Brown is to pay the Jesuits $4500 a month for the first year, $4750 a month for the second year and $5000 a month for the three remaining years. This will aggregate $229,000 in the five years, a very handsome figure.

Property in this section of the city is being held very high, and there has been considerable speculation in options because of the rumor that a department store was to be erected on the St. Ignatius site, one of the finest in the city at the present time. Now that the news is out, there will be a scurrying for leases.

The lease provides that the owners shall clear away the debris, and the Rev. Father Freeden today entered into a contract with the Empire State Construction & Engineering Company to remove the ruins. This contract calls for the work to be completed by October 7, this year, and the cost will be about $13,000.

But Mr. Brown declares that he may begin work before the site has been cleared, for he is very anxious to have the store open, and a delay until October would be disappointing.

VICIOUS DOG BITES WHEELMAN

BERKELEY, July 26.—George F Nutting of 2613 Durant avenue went limping into the police station yesterday afternoon and said that while passing the corner of Bancroft way near Shattuck avenue a dog jumped out at him and nipped his leg. He said that he tried to find the owner of the dog so he could bring him to justice for having such a vicious animal around but could not locate him Nutting claims that he was riding his wheel at the time when the savage canine nipped a piece out of the calf of his leg The dog made the snap and then disappeared down an alley. Two weeks ago the same dog bit A. W. Keith, a youth residing at 2337 Channing way.

The poundmaster is looking for the animal and it will fare ill with him if he is caught.

Governor Folk delivered an address of welcome. He put the convention in a jovial humor by saying "You may have noticed escaping gas, a thing never discovered here before." He said further: "While we differ politically, I welcome you as chief executive of the state. I have tried to be governor of no class, but of all the people of the state. EXTEND RAILROAD

Will Run the Line Across Central Oregon to Snake River.

PORTLAND, Or., July 26.—The Oregonian today says that the Corvallis and Eastern Railroad is to be extended by the Hammond interests, its present owners, from the terminus at Idanha, Linn county, across Central Oregon, to some point on the Snake river, probably Ontario. Another Hammond road, the Astoria and Columbia River, will be extended south along the coast from seaside to the Nehalem and Tillamook country. Both these projects will aggregate over 350 miles of new construction, and it is expected the roads will be in operation within a few years.

During the past year there have been many rumors of the sale of the Hammond lines, first to one and then to another of the great trans-continental systems, but in this connection the Oregonian says:

"Not only is Mr. Hammond not contemplating the sale of either of his lines, but he intends to add a very large mileage to them. Many believe this move assures the entry of the Gould lines into Oregon. It is said that the destination of the C. and E. may not be Ontario, but to a point in the Klamath country, where a juncture will be effected with the California, Nevada and Oregon, an alleged Gould line running north from Reno, Nevada, to a point in Northern California near Alturas, the county seat of Modoc, just across the Oregon line."

Nutting and W. Hamilton Mrs. Rosenthal was recently acquitted on a similar charge.

ANOTHER WELCHER

German Phoenix Company Also Will Hide Behind Quake Clause.

Another company has welched This time it is the German Phoenix Insurance company

This corporation in line with the refusal of the British companies to pay losses where the earthquake has borne directly or indirectly on the cause, announces that it will not pay the liabilities resultant from the San Francisco fire

The same alleged reasoning as that of the companies which met here yesterday and gave out a statement of their purpose to decline to pay, is maintained by the German company It declares that where there is any doubt about the origin of the fire that is when the loss cannot be traced directly to the earthquake, they will adjust payments on a fair basis, but in all other cases a refusal to liquidate claims of indebtedness, will be made until the courts may force another attitude.

San Francisco residents hold policies to the amount of $3,000,000 in this company.

BIG SHOW AT NOVELTY

Colonel Lubelski Is Presenting Excellent Bill This Week.

The Three Lady Singers in The Tennison Quartet.

Colonel Lubelski is personally in charge of his handsome vaudeville house this week and when this experienced theatrical manager is at the helm his patrons can rest assured that the cream of the vaudeville talent can be seen at his Novelty theater. The big attractions booked months ago for his theaters in San Francisco, that were destroyed by fire, are now appearing from week to week in this city The feature act now on is the Tennison Quartet composed of three ladies and one gentleman. These people have appeared in all the principal cities of the United States and from press notices that preceded them, they sustain all the good things that have been said of them They are certainly one of the best aggregations in their line ever heard on this coast, and are being well received by the audiences. The Ransom Pony and Dog circus not only pleases the little ones, but also the adults This portion of the program is worth the price of admission alone "Bimha, the comedy acrobat, convulses the audience with laughter every second he is on the stage. There are many other numbers, which includes the moving pictures and the latter are, as usual, the very latest from Europe and the east. Altogether the program is an exceptionally fine bill.

READERS' PAY DOCKED BY U. C.

Employes May Sue University for Salaries Alleged to Be Due Them.

BERKELEY, July 26.—The salaries of ten or more men connected with the faculty were docked at the close of the college year because of complications in the legal affairs of the State University. The employes of the university are considering the advisability of combining their interests and engaging legal counsel to fight the university for the salaries due.

PROMISE TO PAY LATER.

The action of the university authorities was taken some time after the San Francisco fire. A number of men connected with the faculty in the capacity of readers were denied their full salaries, but given to understand that the remainder of the amount due might be collected at a later date. This idea has now been changed and the men are indignant at the action of the authorities.

SALARY IS $200 A YEAR.

The situation presented is a new one in the university The readers are engaged on the recommendations of the heads of the departments at a salary of $200 a year, which is supposed to be paid in ten monthly installments of $20 each. The departments of history and English require the largest number of readers and this year a certain sum was allotted to each of these departments to be used in the payment of readers.

TOO MANY READERS.

No change was made in the salary schedule, but the number of readers engaged was greater than could be paid from the sum given for the purpose Their salaries for the last month were cut to some extent in every case, and in this way the allotment made was sufficient to cover the demand.

NOT TREATED FAIRLY.

In speaking of the matter Jackson Gregory, one of the most prominent men in this year's graduating class and reader in English, said: "The readers have not been treated squarely in this matter. We were hired by the year and were supposed to receive $200 for the time In some cases I know that this money was needed to pay bills which had accrued during the year's work, and when the money was refused at the end of the term it placed some of the readers in an embarrassing position. A number of readers have come to me with the proposition of pooling their interests and fighting the university for the money due

USES FIRE AS EXCUSE.

"The sum for each man is not great but when an institution like the University of California refuses to pay the salaries which it promises, and takes advantage of a fire which suddenly stops the work, as an excuse for this action I think it is time the university should make some slight changes in its way of doing business If the departments of history and English did not have enough money to pay their readers they should not have hired such a number or should have arranged to pay smaller salaries. It is a peculiar situation, but I think the university should make good"

SAYS MEN DID NOT WORK.

"It is not a matter which should be exploited," said Secretary of the Regents Victor Henderson "The men did not earn the money for the last month of the year, as they escaped all the most difficult part of their work in the reading of examination papers The departments were somewhat crippled financially and we thought it no more than right that the readers should not be paid for the work which they did not do There will be no further trouble about the matter I think, as I have received no complaint and am not aware that there is any dissatisfaction"

The men affected by the cut are from the departments of history and English They include William S Andrews, Jackson Gregory W J Cooper B H Jones, F P Griffiths, F. T Blanchard C K. Judy, L E Martin J W Morin, G A Smithson and a few others.

AN EPISCOPAL PARISH'S BICENTENARY.

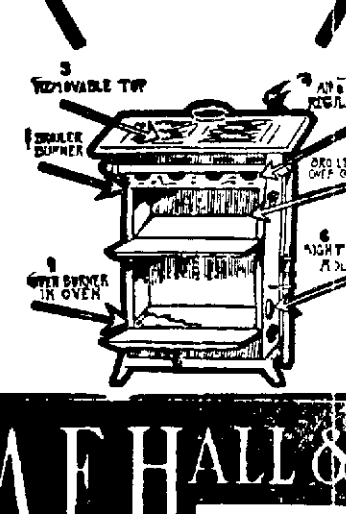

St. John's Episcopal parish of this city celebrated recently the bicentenary of the laying of the corner stone of its church which took place on John the Baptist's day 1706 The date is established from existing records in the archives of the parish The first rector was the Rev John Brooke, who was sent out from England by the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

There had been Episcopal services here prior to 1706, however, as the following entry from the journal of the Rev George Keith, a missionary who preceded Brooke shows: "1703, November 3—I preached at Andy Craig's in the township of Elizabeth town, I. I Pet. 1, 5, and baptized his four children"

St John was the pioneer Episcopal church in this section The present rector is the Rev Otis A. Glazebrook, who was a Confederate soldier—New York Times

CHILD'S AWFUL SKIN HUMOR

Screamed with Pain — Suffering Nearly Broke Parent's Heart — Twelve Years of Misery — Doctor Called Case Incurable — Helped from First, and

SPEEDILY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I wish to inform you that your wonderful Cuticura has put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son. As an infant I noticed on his body a red spot and treated same with different remedies for about five years, but when the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors.

Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. The longer the doctors treated him the worse it grew. During the day it would get rough and form like scales. At night it would be cracked, inflamed, and badly swollen, with terrible burning and itching. When I think of his suffering, it nearly breaks my heart. His screams could be heard down stairs. The suffering of my son made me full of misery. I had no ambition to work, to eat, nor could I sleep.

"One doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable and gave it up for a bad job. One evening I saw an article in the paper about the wonderful Cuticura and decided to give it a trial.

"I tell you that Cuticura Ointment is worth its weight in gold; and when I had used the first box of Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smooth as silk. (signed) Michael Steinman, 7 Sumner Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1905."

MULE DEFIES STREET CAR

CHESTER, Pa., July 26.—A large and robust mule is creating consternation among the motormen of the Swarthmore trolley road by reason of his habit of obstructing the tracks along Seventeenth street, in the rear of the Pennsylvania Military College, every night.

The nocturnal rambler made his initial appearance Sunday night shortly after 11 o'clock, when the motorman of an inbound car was horrified to see the animal loom up suddenly in front of the car, with his legs firmly planted and his eyes blazing defiance at the approaching headlight.

Instant application of the brakes prevented a collision, and after the exercise of considerable diplomacy his muleship was induced to vacate his position.

The crew of the next car had the same experience, and so had all the others who passed.

Now the men wish it known that if an accident to the obstinate descendant of the beast ridden by Balaam occurs that it will be brought upon himself, as they are getting tired of prying him from the tracks with fence rails and other persuaders.

CYCLIST MERELY WARNED.

Raymond White appeared in Department 1 of the police court this morning, charged with violating the bicycle ordinance. White ran his motor cycle on to the sidewalk, for a distance of thirty feet, when he was placed under arrest. Acting Judge Geary warned him to beware in the future and sentence was suspended.

BATTLES WITH A POSSE

Hunted Man Wounds One of Party Sent to Serve Papers.

MILWAUKEE, July 26.—An Evening Wisconsin special from Ladysmith, Wis., says the long threatened clash between John Dietz and family on one side and a posse on the other, occurred yesterday and incomplete information indicates that Dietz still holds the fort. About 150 shots were fired. One of the posse was shot three times and is in a serious condition. Clarence Dietz, son of John, was shot and wounded, but his condition is unknown.

John Dietz for a long time has prevented the delivery of five million feet of logs at the Cameron dam on the Thornapple. Repeated efforts to serve papers on Dietz, who declared he would die defending himself, failed. Several days ago, however, the court called for a posse, which included six militiamen, and sent it to the dam to serve papers on Dietz.

According to James Hedrington, who witnessed the fight and who arrived at Ladysmith today, Dietz, aided by his wife and son, opened fire when the posse appeared, and a lively fusillade was maintained for some time. Dietz firing from behind a stump.

Hedrington left the scene, helping to care for the wounded man before the fight had terminated, but up to that time papers had not been served on Dietz.

CHANCES FOR JAPANESE NAVY

Government Plans to Strengthen Fighting Vessels.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 26.—The steamer Shinano Maru, which arrived yesterday brought news of many contemplated changes in the Japanese navy. The naval program has been arranged whereby the strength of Japan's navy will reach 520,000 tons in 1909, but it is not believed this strength will be permanently retained. Twenty-three cruisers will be struck off the effective list this year. The detail of proposed expansion of the navy is now being drawn up at Tokio. Advices were received from Korea that consequent to the surrounding of the palace with Japanese troops on July 4th, the seal of the Korean Emperor was secured to a new mining treaty, effective on September 1st, which will effect American mining interests in Korea inasmuch as concessions now held must not be sold or mortgaged without consent of the Japanese resident, foreigners will be bound by the regulations of this treaty.

BAMBOO TREE IN PATRIOT'S HOME

VICTORIA, B. C., July 26.—Excitement has been occasioned throughout Korea, according to advices received here, because of the appearance of a bamboo tree through the cracks of the floor of the room of the late general minister Yong Whan, the Korean patriot who committed suicide last November when the Japanese took possession of the Korean palace.

The room has been closed since the tragedy.

A Japanese commission of 700 members has been appointed to investigate the resources of Manchuria, and will leave in August.

CRISFIELD, Md., July 26.—William Lee, colored, sentenced to death in Baltimore three weeks ago for assaulting two women in Somerset county, was hanged today by Sheriff Brown on Smith's Island. The hanging was orderly.

ONE MINUTE TO MARRY AND QUARREL

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 26.—One minute after they were married here today Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Devitt, of Fairview had their first difference of opinion.

"I want the news kept from the reporters," said the bridegroom.

"Oh, no, I want it published!" exclaimed the bride.

"I guess not," declared Devitt with some heat.

Alderman John Perkins, who had married them, gazed reproachfully at them and they said no more.

The bride was Miss Mary Hibschle. They came here, procured a marriage license, and as they desired to be married at once, Alderman Perkins was secured.

KILLED BY CAR AND TRUCK

Young Man's Head Is Crushed Between Vehicles in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—A man supposed to be William Keever, met a horrible death last evening at the corner of Sixteenth and Dolores streets, by having his head crushed between a car and a passing truck. Death was almost instantaneous. A score of passengers witnessed the tragedy.

According to the eye witnesses the victim was sitting on the lower step of car No. 1730 of the Fillmore line.

A heavy truck, driven by Frank Ducker, met the car at the corner of Sixteenth street. Keever did not pay any attention to the approach of the truck. The car was running at the usual rate of speed. The victims head was caught between the wheel of the vehicle and the car and was crushed to a pulp.

The identity of the dead man has not been established. It is thought from a card found on him that his name was Keever. He was about twenty-three years of age, had a gold tooth in the front of his mouth, wore a white hat and was dressed in a gray suit. His shoes were low cut and his underwear was pink.

Frank W. Peirce, the motorman, and Frank Ducker, the driver of the dray were arrested and charged with manslaughter.

ALL STREET SIGNS MUST COME DOWN

Chief of Police Wilson has issued an order that all temporary signs, which extend over the street must be down by August 1. After the San Francisco fire many new firms came into Oakland and put out cloth signs across the sidewalks. Chief Wilson has now ordered his men to see that these have all been taken down or replaced by wooden signs by next Wednesday.

STATESMAN IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Former Congressman Loutitt Near Death's Door at Pacific Grove.

STOCKTON, July 26.—Hon. James A. Loutitt, the well known attorney and formerly congressman from this district, is near death's door at Pacific Grove.

Some time before the time of the fire at San Francisco, Mr. Loutitt suffered a stroke of apoplexy. He was recovering, but the shock caused by the fire and the attendant excitement, caused a relapse. He came to this city and under the doctor's care he was rapidly building up, and appeared to be past danger. He went to Pacific Grove to complete his recuperation, but recently attended a picnic and suffered another stroke. A telegram received here stated that he was sinking rapidly, and his sons, John and Thomas, left immediately for his bedside.

GIRL STRIKERS DEFY "COPS" AND MILL OWNER

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—Jail doors have no terrors for the sixty girls who went on strike at Max Clair's shirtwaist factory, Thirteenth and Hamilton streets, out of sympathy for fifty men who were discharged. Although the law had twice interfered with the strike, the girls declare they will continue to do picket duty in front of Clair's factories in this city and Camden.

At their meeting at 260 South Fourth street, Saul Einstein, business representative of the strikers, said:

"We have enough money to pay $20 a day in fines for legal transgressions, and also to keep us all for three months without working."

"That's right," shouted the girls in chorus, "and we'll stick it out."

Bessie Weinstein, one of the strikers, was arrested for trying to induce Annie Gordon, a girl who remained at work, to join the strikers. There was a quarrel, and both girls scratched and slapped. The Weinstein girl was discharged after a lecture by Magistrate O'Brien.

There was also trouble in Camden, where the strikers are trying to influence the employes of Clair's factory, at Ninth and Hamilton streets. Fistein, Anna Bouch and Etta Rosenberg were arrested for distributing circulars bearing a criticism of Clair's actions. Each was fined $10 and costs.

Clair says he will not take the men back, and he wants the girls to come to the factory and get the money due them. The girls declare that they will not go.

RECOVER BODIES FROM THE WATER

SPOKANE, Wash., July 26.—The bodies of Fireman George Bell and E. M. Newcombe, killed in the Great Northern wreck near Camden, Wash., on Monday, were recovered from Diamond lake today. Coroner McRae of Stevens county has decided to hold no inquest. He said:

"There is no doubt the wreck was caused by running at too high speed over a dangerous piece of road."

RAILROAD OBJECTS TO RAISE

Western Pacific Appears Before State Board of Equalization.

SACRAMENTO, July 26. — The Western Pacific Railroad Company made its first appearance before the state board of equalization today in relation to the old Alameda and San Joaquin road now owned by it. The railroad was represented by H. H. Griffiths and J. L. Smith, the latter being the tax agent of the new transcontinental line.

In the report presented to the board the Western Pacific claims but 39.93 miles of single track, valued at $150,000. Rolling stock is valued at $23,755, and the statement given is as follows:

Gross earnings from operation, $95,663.64; operating expenses, $64,423.43, leaving a net income of $31,240.21.

INTEREST ON DEBT.

The interest on the funded debt amounts to $35,000 and betterments and additions had cost $858.53, leaving a deficit from the year's operations of $4,618.82.

The first question that came up was the proposition of the state tax commission to charge all public corporations from four to six per cent on their gross earnings as a state tax.

Griffiths held that it would work a hardship on a new line coming into the state, as such a line would be obliged to expend vast sums in perfecting their construction, and would be greatly handicapped in consequence when competing with old established roads.

TO BE LET ALONE.

The Western Pacific representative, while not asking for any reduction, requested to be let alone this year.

D. L. Bliss, representing the Lake Tahoe Railway and Transportation Company, owning eighteen miles of road valued at $26,767. The gross earnings were $89,233.17 and the operating expenses were $25,762.11, leaving a net income of 141,071.06.

The interest on the funded debt amounted to $5000, leaving a surplus of $9,071.06. Mr. Bliss stated that the road had showed an increase of business over the previous year.

BOCA ROAD.

Major P. J. Harney appeared, representing the Boca and Loyalton road. This road has forty-four miles of single track, valued at $74,800. The rolling stock is valued at $13,575. The gross earning were $202,624.66. The operating expenses were $111,578.65, leaving a net income of $91,040.01. The interest on current liabilities amounted to $40,500 and the betterments and additions to $5916.60, leaving a surplus of $44,627.41.

SIERRA RAILWAY.

The Sierra Railway of California was represented by S. D. Freshman. This road has 84.46 miles of single track, valued at $303,760. Its gross earnings abount to $364,713.80 and its operating expenses to $232,104.30, leaving a net income of $132,609.50. Interest on current liabilities amounts to $6373.04 and betterments and additions to $41,179.33, leaving a deficit of $21,167.92.

MARRY AFTER QUARTER CENTURY ESTRANGEMENT

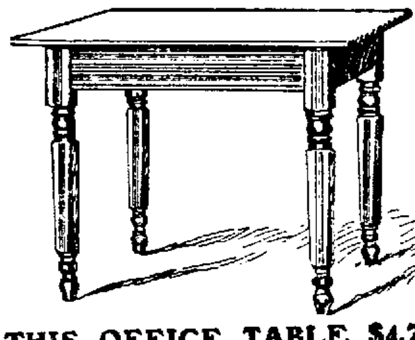

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 26.—A love romance has just been revealed at Meredith, at the head of Lake Winnipiseogee, in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Eva Beede to the Rev. Willis P. Odell of Germantown, Pa.

More than a quarter of a century ago Mr. Odell, then living at Tilton, was a warm admirer of Miss Beede, who at that time was a student in the New Hampshire Conference Seminary and Female College at Tilton, but some obstacle arose in the path of the lovers, and they became estranged. Later Mr. Odell married, went to Pennsylvania and secured a $5000 pastorate.

Miss Beede persistently pursued her studies, became a teacher of English science and literature. Latin, French, and German, traveled extensively through the United States, went abroad, taught in Vermont Seminary and finally settled down at her old home to assist her brother, all the while being active in church and women's club work. She has also written numerous poems, stories and essays for newspapers and magazines.

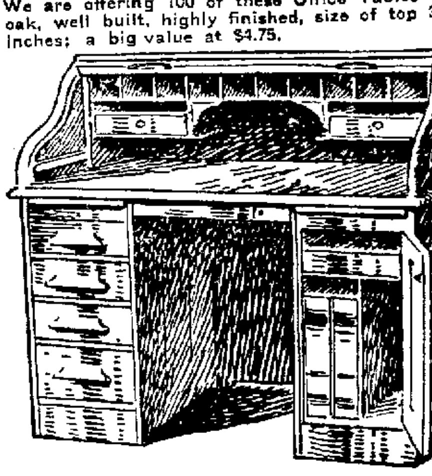

Mrs. Odell died eight years ago. Last season when Mr. Odell visited Meredith, he accepted the invitation of Miss Beede's brother to visit the family, when friendships were renewed and the old flame rekindled, and at his second visit this year the engagement was announced.

WELLS-FARGO IS DEFENDANT

Sued by Policy Holders Who Want to Examine the Books.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Dudley Evans, president, and Homer B. Parsons, secretary of the Wells-Fargo Express Company, were made defendants today in an action brought in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn by Robert W. Pomeroy and Albert Josephson, two stockholders, for a peremptory writ of mandamus compelling them to submit to an examination of the books of the corporation. The plaintiffs said that they represent 56 per cent of the stock of the company.

After hearin gthe arguments the court reserved decision.

Counsel for the plaintiffs declared in his argument that they have received interest of only 8 per cent, while they had reason to believe that it should be 40 per cent. Counsel also said that a committee was recently formed to get information about the affairs of the company, but had received only an evasive statement.

He asserted that for the last five years the corporation had been under the domination of one man. He said the surplus was stated to be $12,000,000 when it was probably $19,000,000, and the amount of bonds was given as $5,000,000 when $10,000,000 would be nearer correct. The attorney said the defense asserted that the plaintiffs represent a stock brokerage firm and wanted to control the coming election of directors.

At every annual meeting of the company, it was stated, full and correct statements are issued as to the financial condition of the company. They also contended that the charter of the corporation had been obtained in Colorado and that the court had no jurisdiction to enforce the inspection of the books of a company of another State.

ONE DOLLAR FOR FINDER OF $3000

SHAMOKIN, Pa., July 26.—Daniel Wertman, a coal hauler, saw a commercial man, who refused to reveal his identity, drop a purse containing $3000 on a street here.

Wertman picked up the purse and ran after the stranger, who told Wertmann the latter was an honest man and should be rewarded.

Before a crowd he held up a roll of bills of all denominations from $1 to $1000 and told Wertman to close his eyes and draw one note and keep it.

It was Wertman's lucky day. He drew a dollar bill.

NEW BUILDING RENTED QUICKLY

Structure at Sixteenth and San Pablo Avenue Leased Before Completion.

The structure which is being put up by Dr. S. Kahn of San Francisco, a brother of the members of the firm of Kahn Brothers of this city, at the northeast corner of San Pablo avenue and Sixteenth street, has been rented and at very remunerative terms.

The basement and ground floor have been secured by the Owl Drug Company for a period of ten years.

The two upper floors have been rented by Heald's Business College, a concern which has been established for many years in San Francisco. This lease extends through a period of five years.

The Owl Drug Company, however, will not relinquish its present quarters at the Thirteenth street and Broadway. Its lease to that place has a couple of years to run. The establishment in Oakland of Heald's Business College means that homes must be found in this city for hundreds of young men and women who will come here annually to secure a business education.

ONE GRAVE FOR PAIR MARRIED 53 YEARS

CAPE MAY, July 26 — A wish which they had often expressed, that they could die and be buried at one time, will be fulfilled tomorrow, when the double funeral of David Trusty and his wife, Katurah, will take place at Cold Spring.

The husband died on Monday morning, after an illness of three months. At the time his wife was in a comatose state, suffering with a blood clot on the brain, unaware of his death. Tuesday afternoon the wife died.

The single funeral was postponed, and the two will be laid to rest side by side in one large grave.

The old pair—the husband was 76 and the wife 75 years old—had been married fifty-three years. All of this time they occupied one house in Cold Spring.

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., July 26.—The will of Frances C. Brewer of San Mateo, who died July 4 was admitted to probate in this city today.

Mrs. Brewer was the mother of Rev. W. A. Brewer and owner of St. Mathew's School at San Mateo. In her will she left $1500 to her sister, Susan L. Hale of San Francisco; $1500 to the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Episcopal Church. The balance of the estate is divided equally between her four children.

The value of the estate will exceed $100,000. Mrs. Brewer directs that St. Mathew's School be kept open subject to the discretion of her son, W. A. Brewer, and authorizes their executor or executrix to conduct it.

CUT BEAR'S THROAT TO SAVE LIFE. IT DIES.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The operation of tracheotomy was successfully performed on a bear at the Munday animal arena at Luna Park recently. The bear died, however. It is explained that his end was not from the operation, but from other wounds received in a fight with a lion.

A large lion attacked the bear when the animals were being driven to their dens after performing. They fought all over the arena and ten minutes elapsed before the trainers could separate them. The lion had several bites on its body and scratches on its face, but the bear was bitten in numerous parts of its body, including a bad laceration of the throat.

The swelling on the bear's throat increased to such an extent that it was suffocating. Dr. P. Kohnstamm of the Twenty-third street Veterinary Hospital saw that a tracheotomy operation was necessary and performed it at once. A circular piece of the trachea was removed, large enough to alow the introduction of the tracheotomy tube.

Scientific Charity a Failure.

The Call says "scientific charity" has proved a failure in San Francisco.

No wonder. It proceeds from a false hypothesis to a wrong method. Dr. Devine, the exponent and exemplar of the "scientific charity" philosophy, is a professional charity monger—that is, it is his occupation to administer the charitable designs of other people who supply the money. His plan is to make charity as cheap as possible for his patrons, and consequently as unpleasant as possible for the recipients. According to this theory, the human being who is compelled to have his necessities relieved by his fellow creatures should be treated like a dog in order to discourage him from doing it again or falling into the habit of being relieved. In his fear that those in need of relief will become paupers Dr. Devine would treat them like criminals.

This commercialized and perverted notion of charity work and giving in charity is bad enough under ordinary circumstances and conditions, but it is simply infamous when applied to the people of San Francisco, whom an appalling and universal calamity reduced to a state of distress requiring relief. Those people were not alms-seekers or alms-takers. The money and supplies donated for their relief were not bestowed as charity as the word is popularly understood. The relief was not intended to be charity, nor were the beneficiaries regarded as paupers and mendicants. That is Dr. Devine's idea, the idea of the professional philanthropist who makes his living by acting as the almoner of some one else and the minister of some one else's charitable intentions.

It is not strange, when the matter is understood, that the relief work in San Francisco has been of the kind that does not relieve; that while it has been expensive very little actual relief has succeeded in dribbling through the hands of the paid administrators to the persons in need. Salaries and profits ate up so much that hardly anything was left to give away. Besides, as Dr. Devine insists, it is best not to treat paupers and mendicants too well or they will continue to be paupers and mendicants. So the real policy is to be brutal instead of human, harsh instead of sympathetic.

This policy naturally coincided with the broad, unselfish ideas of the army of salary eaters and the thrifty swarm that were exacting a profit at every turn in the winding and roundabout road of relief, but it hardly accords with what the Savior taught or with the sentiments which spring spontaneously in the human breast. As the Call points out, there has been a vast amount of relief work and a small amount of relief. The machinery is too complex, grinds the relief too small and takes too much in toll. The prayer now is relief from the relievers. The guests are starving while the cooks are devouring the viands in the kitchen, for relief that relieves; and for freedom from the red tape and military hectoring devised by a professional philanthropist with theories which do not comport with the facts of the case nor accord with the instincts of civilized humanity.

Our San Francisco contemporary says "scientific charity is mostly theory and neglects altogether the personal equation." It is mostly humbug and is diametrically opposed to the spirit of true charity. It is a system devised mainly for the benefit of those who administer it. Furthermore, it creates a species of professionalism in socalled charity work that chills every spark of humanity in those who pursue it as a means of livelihood and degrades those who are compelled to accept what it offers. As a refugee said, "it don't take long for a man to make up his mind to steal and take the chance of going to jail in preference to living on roasts hot off the tongue and cold soup from a dirty ladle." This is a rough summing up of the results achieved by Dr. Devine's method of administering relief in such a way as to discourage pauperism. It is enough to discourage the recipients with life itself, and certainly is not worth what it costs. It is not what the contributors to the relief fund intended.

Bert Willard, aged 19, is in jail at Puyallup, Washington, charged with the murder of Lloyd Hadden, aged 16. Young Hadden and another lad were in a canoe when Willard swam out and rocked the boat till one of the boys fell out. Then he swam ashore, leaving the lad to drown. An example should be made of this vicious fool. In all such fellows there is a strain of wanton malice, and the sportive tricks to which they are addicted not only endanger life and limb, but are played in a spirit of brutality. This element of brutality and malice is seldom lacking in the socalled practical joke, for which there is seldom a decent excuse, and which usually inflicts either pain, humiliation or pecuniary loss on the victim. When the practical joker causes death he pleads as an excuse that he was only "having a little fun." The way to break up this sort of funny business is to give the merry jesters long terms at hard labor in prisons.

Although the assessment roll of San Francisco shows a decrease of $149,000,000 in taxable values in that city, the decrease in the assessment of the State from last year will be slight. The counties which have already reported to the State Board of Equalization show an aggregate increase of nearly $20,000,000. It is reported that Los Angeles county's roll will show an increase approximating $50,000,000, and Alameda will show several millions more. There will be decreases in Sonoma and Santa Clara, but there are still such rich counties as San Joaquin, Solano, Contra Costa, Riverside, Tulare, Kern, San Diego, and San Bernardino to be heard from. From the information at hand, it is reasonable to conclude that the decrease in the State's tax roll will harcly run above $60,000,000.

This, without doubt, will be the banner year of Alaska and Yukon Territory for gold shipments. It has been estimated that the combined output of Klondike, Tanana, Nome, and smaller northern camps this year will reach $30,000,000 to $40,000,000.—Dawson News.

The Czar seems to have decided at last that the best government for Russia is a despotism tempered by assassination. There promises to be a good deal of tempering in the near future, accompanied by a few fireworks.

Instead of dissolving the Douma the Czar should have sent for Uncle Joe Cannon to run it. With Uncle Joe wielding the gavel he would have no trouble in programming his legislature.

A new four-story building was blown down by the wind in San Francisco Sunday. If that is the sort of rebuilding San Francisco is doing it would better start all over again.—Los Angeles Herald.

The Mayor and the Merchants.

History did indeed begin on April 18th, as Mayor Schmitz says. The Mayor has accepted an invitation he once scornfully declined to dine with the Merchants' Association, and the chairman of that body, Mr. Frank J. Symmes, introduced with smiling compliments the official at whom he once, at a banquet, pointed an accusing finger and rather broadly threatened with a term in State prison. For that affront the Mayor refused in a sharp note of indignation an invitation, extended after his third election, to break bread with Mr. Symmes and his mercantile confreres. But things are different now. The Merchants' Association renews the invitation once scorned, the Mayor accepts with pleasure, and Mr. Symmes tosses him a few bouquets in introducing him as the honored guest of the evening. Did the earthquake sponge out the record or change men's characters? Hardly. Schmitz and Symmes are the same men they were before the calamity, but the stress of common misfortune has brought them closer together and taught them to know each other better. It is not a case of familiarity breeding contempt, but an instance of prejudice and misinformation being dissipated by a nearer view under a more sympathetic light. It must be said, however, that the workingmen's Mayor—"fiddler" some scoffingly call him—had all the better of the occasion. He has sacrificed neither personal nor official dignity while Mr. Symmes and his associates have, in a sense, confessed error for the second time; the Mayor's attitude was one of forgiveness and his address was in a tone of gentle reproof and benignant admonition. Yes, history began on the 18th of April, about fourteen minutes after five o'clock in the morning, and it has been rapidly making ever since, but it is only the beginning of a new chapter. There was history made prior to the 18th of April, and while the old city of San Francisco had finis written across its ruins, the story of what it was and what its inhabitants did remains. The Mayor's rather felicitous phrase is simply a euphemistic statement of the fact that the citizens have agreed to forget and forgive the wrongs and affronts of the past and cordially work together in rebuilding the city. It was fit and meet that this Paschal feast should have taken place in the ruins of a splendid hotel in course of rehabilitation. It was singularly appropriate that the new spirit should manifest and express itself amid a wreck that is in process of restoration for a brighter future. It is a happy augury. As for THE TRIBUNE, we can heartily cry well done, Mr. Mayor; well done, Mr. Symmes! It may be only fiction that history in San Francisco only began last April, but we trust there is nothing unreal about the beginning of an era of better feeling and a clearer understanding of motives and characters. Now that the feast is over and the post prandial speeches ended, the proper thing for all hands is to lay aside their coats as well as old grudges and lay hold with a will in the work of rebuilding San Francisco, else the new history is likely to turn out a record of great cry and little wool. Quit talking, gentlemen, and go to work.

NATURE VERSUS ART.

"Gentlemen," thundered the energetic lecturer, "we live in pessimistic times. Our leading politicians, our pulpit orators, our great philosophers, our poets, and, worst of all, our novelists, delight to picture life as a hideous nightmare, a crooked dream, a thing not worth the misery expended in enduring, a low scramble for human supremacy, or as an ignoble failure at best. And, gentlemen, are they right? Is it indeed so? Are we really sinking in the scale of civilization? Nature is nature, and we are her children; nature is good and wise and beautiful and true; nature ennobles us, and makes us free from guile and deceit!"

Here there was a stir in the audience.

"Hold on, guv'nor. Look here!" shouted a man who had been intently listening. "This is my wig, and these my false teeth, and this my glass eye. What about them, eh? What sort of a fright would I be without them? They lick nature all to pieces, I can tell you. You hold on a bit!"—Tit Bits.

HUMOROUS SIDE OF LIFE.

How Could She?

"Did you not tell me," the count whispered, "that your father had an automobile factory?"

"Yes," said the belle of Altoona, "and a motor-cycle plant, and twelve dozen repair shops."

"Oh," he cried, passionately, "and you can still doubt my love?"

No Time for Funerals.

Wholly unintentional, but felt sharply by its recipient, nevertheless, was the rebuke an old colored "mammy" administered the other day to her mistress, who belongs to an amazing number of clubs. The family has a mansion in one of the suburbs. The privileged old servant does not altogether approve of some methods of the modern woman. One day her mistress had a dozen club friends out to luncheon in her home, and the feast was spread on the porch. By and by the hostess heard a lively colloquy between her eldest hopeful, 7 years old, and the nurse. "You just git down outen dat tree," said the nurse. "You want to fall out and kill yourself, do you? Well, you ust try it and see what good it'll do you. You' mother she dat busy right now she won't even hab time to go to you' funeral."—New York Press.

A Modern Miracle.

ENGAGEMENTS.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Kathleen Bull and Covington Pringle. Miss Bull is the daughter of the late Alpheus Bull, and a sister of Mrs Walter Chichester, Miss Edith Bull and Alpheus Bull. She is pretty, accomplished and popular and has traveled a great deal.

Covington Pringle is the youngest son of the Pringle family and is quite as popular as his brothers Edward William, Charles and Sidney. He returned last year from several months' stay abroad with his mother, Mrs Edward Pringle. The wedding will probably take place in the fall.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Ruth Merrill and Leonard Hammond is also one of social importance, both young people being well known on both sides of the bay.

Miss Merrill is the charming and youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs John F Merrill and sister of Mrs. Harry Bates.

Leonard Hammond is the son of A B Hammond, the well known capitalist.

No date has been mentioned for the wedding.

ALLEGATIONS IN CERTAIN DAILY PAPERS OF SATURDAY AND SUNDAY LAST THAT I HAD MADE STATEMENTS BEFORE THE GRAND JURY REFLECTING UNFAVORABLY ON MY OWN ACTIONS OR THOSE OF THE EAGLE FIRE COMPANY OF N. Y. WERE WHOLLY FALSE.

THE DAILY PAPERS OF SAN FRANCISCO AND OAKLAND WERE INFORMED IMMEDIATELY AFTER THE APPEARANCE OF THE ARTICLE IN ONE OF THE SATURDAY MORNING'S PAPERS, THAT THE ALLEGATIONS WERE FALSE AND LIBELOUS, AND ALL REFRAINED FROM PUBLISHING THE MATTER EXCEPT ONE MORNING, AND, I BELIEVE, ONE EVENING, PAPER.

I NEVER MADE THE STATEMENT ATTRIBUTED TO ME, OR ANY OF THEM, NOR ANY SIMILAR STATEMENTS, NOR HAVE I AT ANY TIME DONE, OR BEEN INSTRUCTED BY ANY CLIENT TO DO, ANY OF THE THINGS I WAS DESCRIBED AS HAVING ADMITTED.

If you want a suit for the fall buy it now and save ten dollars

Why, for the ten dollars saved you can buy all your shoes for a year, or you can get a half a dozen dollar and a half shirt waists and a belt, or an extra skirt.

The money you save on one of these suits will probably pay your rent for half a month, or buy you a new set of dishes, or a ton and more of coal.

It's worth saving, folks—really it is.

And the suits are splendidly good, too. They are of broadcloth and other tailor cloth materials, in bright stylish solid colors, mostly Etons, excellently made and prettily trimmed.

These are not cheap looking "sale" garments—they are not "thrown together," they are not out of style and they are not shop worn.

They are all fresh, new, stylish suits—suits you'll be proud to own, suits that you can wear all during the coming fall and winter.

You'll pay $25 or $30 for practically the same styles two months from now, if you don't get one tomorrow at $14.95.

Now isn't the $10 worth saving? Don't you think the suits are worth coming down to see?

H. C. BROKMEYER DIES IN EAST

Former Lieutenant Governor of Missouri Succumbs to Operation.

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—H. C. Brokmeyer, former lieutenant governor of Missouri, and at one time acting governor, died at St. Luke's hospital today. He underwent an operation Saturday and did not rally, having been ill so long that his vitality had become practically exhausted.

Mr. Brokmeyer was a nephew of the "Iron Chancellor," Prince Otto Eduard Leopold Von Bismarck, on his mother's side. He was born August 12, 1826, near Minden, Prussia. He came to this country at the age of eighteen, his first occupation being that of a bootblack in New York City. His education was received in the college at Georgetown, Ky., and Brown university, Providence, R. I.

In 1875 he was Democratic lieutenant governor. From 1876 to 1877, during the illness of Governor John S. Phelps, he was acting governor. In the latter capacity he attracted considerable attention by ordering Dick Little, a convicted member of the Jesse James robber band, He was an ardent defender with Carl Schurz during the "bolt" of 1872 and was an elector at large on the Cleveland ticket of 1884.

LOSE FOUR-FOOTED ODD FELLOW

WINSTED, Conn., July 26.—Jack the good old donkey which has taken part in the initiations held in the secret chamber of Clifton Lodge, I. O. O. F., for the last fifteen years, died yesterday afternoon of old age. He was nearly forty years old.

A number of Odd Fellows gave faithful Jack a state burial this afternoon. Jack would climb stairs as easily as a person. He was very fond of chewing tobacco. In the lodge room and outside he recognized a man wearing the three links, and would go up to him and rub his nose against the Odd Fellows' hip pocket if he wanted a chew.

When lodge sessions have closed late, Jack would get tired and go home alone. One night while on his way home alone he recognized his caretaker, Sheriff C. C. Middlebrooks, in a store and walked in and asked him in his donkey fashion for a chew of tobacco.

BOY BLOWS OFF HIS HEAD

Fourteen-Year-Old Lad Quarrels With Father and Suicides.

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—A special from Lordsburg to the Times says:

Ernest Vineyard, fourteen years old, stepson of W. B. James of Lordsburg, committed suicide yesterday by blowing off the top of his head with a double-barreled shotgun. The boy is said to have been on ill terms with his stepfather. The lad selected an unfrequented point between Lordsburg and La Verne for the tragedy.

NEW INSURANCE LAWS DISCUSSED

ALBANY, N. Y., July 26.—United States Senator Morgan C. Bulkeley, president, and Attorney Sperry of the Aetna Life Insurance Company, and William B. Smith, attorney for the Travelers' Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., conferred at length here yesterday with Superintendent Kelsey of the State Insurance Department and Attorney-General Mayer, regarding the interpretation of the provisions of the new insurance laws affecting foreign insurance companies doing business in this state.

Attorney-General Mayer, to whom inquirers were referred by all the other parties to the conference, declined to say what points were discussed, but said he would render later an official opinion on the subject.

SPRING VALLEY SELLS BUILDING

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—A syndicate, composed of W. G. Henshaw of Oakland, Meyer Friedman of Boston, John H. Spring and Douglass Watson of San Francisco, and their associates, have purchased the property of the Spring Valley Water Company, at the southeast corner of Stockton and Geary streets, and known as the City of Paris building. The price mentioned in the purchase is less than $500,000, which is considered a very low valuation by real estate experts as the property is regarded as one of the choicest corners in the retail district of San Francisco. So much of the building escaped destruction that the estimated cost of completely restoring the interior of the structure to make it as great a revenue producer as before the fire is said to be less than $200,000.

MAYOR MOTT EN ROUTE.

UNION MEN IN SESSION

J. B. BOWEN.

Political Club Holds a Meeting and Names Campaign Committee.

The Union Labor Political Club of Alameda county, the executive body which will manage the political campaign for the union labor hosts this fall, held their first regular meeting last evening in their new quarters located in the Dietz Opera House, but delayed taking any definite action until the co-operation of the Central Labor Union is secured. This it is believed can be accomplished by the date of their next meeting on Sunday, July 29.

The Central Union Labor Club is a political organization of union men and it is desired that all the labor men shall be in one accord before any political plans are projected or acted upon.

J. B. Bowen presided at the meeting last evening and the following were appointed to constitute the executive committee to handle the attendant details of the campaign: R. P. Poorman, J. W. Bibby, C. D. Rodgers, A. B. Lewis, G. A. Fisher, C. R. Elder and J. T. Kerns.

DROWN IN SIGHT OF THEIR FRIENDS

CHICAGO, July 26.—Within sight of their friends and companions, John Nelson, 36 years old, and George Walthour, 12 years old, were drowned in the lake off Sixty-eighth street yesterday. Nelson lost his life in a heroic attempt to rescue the drowning boy, who, unconscious of danger, had waded into a deep place in the bottom where sand had been dredged out by means of a suction pump.

NO BLISS IN SINGLE STATE

Judge Tells Girls to Help the Men Propose and Remedy the Evil.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—"To be single is hell—married life is the real thing," reflectively said Police Magistrate Luke J. Connorton, in the Flushing court yesterday. A moment before he uttered this dictum the magistrate had shown extreme mercy to two offenders, who confessed, shamefacedly, that they were more than 30 years old and unmarried.

"Of ten men, more than 30 years old, who come before me, nine are unmarried," the magistrate continued. "All men who wish to succeed should marry; there are few single men who are truly great. My advice to men is, marry young."

"My advice to any girl is: 'If you are certain a young man loves you and he hesitates to pop the question, help him along to it. Talk to him about the advantages of marriage and he will propose and be grateful all his life.'"

"You are single now, Judge," said one of the magistrate's audience, "why don't you ——"

"I'm a widower," Connorton interrupted hastily.

"But you are known all over Queens Borough as the 'Happy Little Judge.' How can you reconcile that with your advice?"

"If you will excuse me I will go to lunch," exclaimed Connorton and he hurried out of court.

HENRY MORRIS SUES FOR DAMAGES

H. C. Morris, a capitalist of this city, today filed suit for $1000 damages against the Bekins Van and Storage Company for the loss of a vanload of furniture belonging to the plaintiff. It was shipped, it is alleged, two days prior to the fire from 2309 Pacific avenue in San Francisco to 1105 Jackson street, Oakland. Since that time the furniture has not been seen.

The furniture was given to the Bekins Van and Storage Company for removal to this city, but that company says the goods were destroyed in the fire. According to Ben F. Woolner, however, the company refuses to explain why the van with the furniture should have remained in San Francisco two days, when the instructions were for the delivery of the goods on the same morning that they were entrusted to the care of the storage company.

Gibson & Woolner are attorneys for plaintiff and according to their contention the van should have left the San Francisco side of the bay for Oakland on the 11 o'clock creek route boat two days before the fire. The furniture was started out on schedule time, but it has disappeared. No explanation satisfactory to plaintiff is forthcoming and the suit is the result.

CHINESE ACCUSED OF THEFT.

Two Chinese, a man and woman, were taken into custody last night upon a charge of petit larceny, sworn to by M. Harris of 226 Second street.

The woman is Jun Pung and the man Ah Wom. It is claimed by Harris that the couple entered his place and took away quantities of lead, several implements and a boy's bicycle.

BANK OFFICIALS IN A MIX-UP

Some Interesting Stories Will Be Told in the Police Court.

The West Oakland Bank trouble continues to be the topic of discussion at the west end. Both sides are backed by their friends and the charges will now have to be fought out in court.

Councilman Emil Hahn says: "This whole case is the result of a successful effort to freeze Wines and myself out of the bank. I will admit that when the bank was organized in October, 1904, by Charles Wines, Charles Willard and myself, we did not know very much about the banking business. Any apparent shortage that may appear now is caused by a confusion resulting from the changing of the accounts of the institution from the temporary books of the bank to those now in use. I will stake my life that Wines has never taken a cent of the money belonging to the bank.

"When Wines, Willard and myself organized the institution we placed the sale of stock in the hands of the Finance and Security Company of San Francisco, of which Block & Greensfelder are the head, and for a time these men had almost entire charge of the affairs of the bank, as we intrusted everything to them. When the change in the books was made all the items on the old books were called off to Wines by a representative of Block & Greensfelder, and it is my belief that any confusion in the accounts occurred at that time.

"Breiling has intimated several times that I had stolen $1250 from the bank, but I only wish that he would make a charge against me. I paid for the charter of the bank out of my own pocket, and it was the repayment of this money to me, which was paid in more than one installment, that Breiling would now like to make out a theft. I want to say right here that if we had known as much about banking when we organized the West Oakland Bank as some people do about beating helpless women, this trouble would never have occurred."

President Breiling is inclined at present to stand on the accusations made in the complaints filed against Wines. He said yesterday afternoon:

"The officials of the bank are prepared to prove all the charges made against Wines, and what is more, other charges of a far more serious nature may soon be filed against him. For one thing, we can prove that he removed about a dozen pages from one of the books of the bank, and this is a felony. That matter is now in the hands of the Bank Commissioners.

"In brief, the whole case amounts to this: When I was elected president of the bank I began to suspect that the accounts were not straight, and I put an expert on the cashier's books. We found a shortage amounting to about $2000, and Wines was at once dismissed. He promised to make good the shortage and failed to do so, and we have determined to take the matter into court. Of the charges of Mr. Hahn that this action is the result of an effort to freeze out the organizers of the bank, I may have something to say later."

Wines stoutly denies that he has misappropriated any of the funds of the bank and declares that when the proper time comes he will prove his innocence to the satisfaction of friends and enemies alike.

FARMER ROOSEVELT PUTS HAY IN MOW

OYSTER BAY, July 26.—It looks like rain," said President Roosevelt to the head farmer at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

"Very like rain," said the head farmer.

"And that hay will get wet if we don't get it under cover," continued the president.

"Hay in ricks in the field is liable to a wettin' when it rains," said the head farmer.

In fifteen minutes the president was in the field with a handkerchief knotted loosely around the band of his collarless shirt, and a pitchfork in his hand. A big wagon was run out of the barn and he went to work with energy, aided by the head farmer and his assistants. The hay was pitched up on the wheeled cradle and driven to the barn.

The president got on top of the load and pitched the first forkful into the mow. He worked valorously for forty minutes, tossing up big bundles as fast as the men in the second story of the barn could take them and stow them away. Then, with the perspiration streaming from every pore, he returned to the house, jumped into a cold plunge, and by the time the storm came up was dressed and in his library reading a book.

TIGRESS CHUMS WITH YELLOW DOG

PORTLAND, July 26.—Just an ordinary yellow dog and a fierce tigress occupied the same cage aboard the German freighter Vandalia, which nosed her way into a slip at the Bush terminal warehouse yesterday. The Vandalia is from the far east.

The dog is from the Straits Settlements, and someone, when the tigress was young, forced the ill-mated pair into terms of intimacy, until they would lie down and share their rations together.

The tigress, a beautiful beast of the Bengal variety, makes every human being aboard the ship respect her long, cruel claws, but has a soft place in her tigerish heart for the waif dog.

Of the collection on the ship, including the Chow Chow dogs, Japanese spaniels, Malay ape and the tigress and her friend, the star is August, a tiny Malay bear cub of the color of blue ink. August is less than sixteen inches in length.

GLUTTONY WORE OUT SNAKE'S APPENDIX

NEW YORK, July 26.—Pete, the eight foot diamond back rattlesnake at the Bronx Zoological Park, was always hungry. Whenever any one came near his cage Pete would open his awful jaws and beg something to eat.

"Some day that critter will die of gout," declared Curator Raymond Ditmar recently, as he watched the snake quickly devour eighteen rabbits at a meal. Pete never chewed his food, which Mr. Ditmar said was a bad habit. He tried to coax the snake to learn to eat slower and to get along on less food, but Pete only swallowed faster.

On Monday Mr. Ditmar noticed Pete's face screwed up in a knot, as if he had pains.

"Sick?" asked Ditmar.

Pete took a reef in his stomach. Ditmar understood and gave him medicine. It didn't help any. Pete died.

Mr. Ditmar couldn't understand what had killed him. Never before had a snake died of stomach ache. He cut the reptile open and found a rabbit's tooth lodged in Pete's appendix. The snake had appendicitis—the first case of its kind ever reported.

WORKMAN HAS CLOSE CALL

Wall That He Is Repairing Falls, But He Escapes Injury.

ALAMEDA, July 26.—While working tearing down the building at the corner of Park street and Santa Clara avenue yesterday, M. J. O'Brien had a narrow escape from a bad fall.

He was working on one of the walls when it suddenly toppled over and left him clinging to an upright. Other workmen saw his predicament and hastened to his rescue. A long ladder was run up and O'Brien climbed down.

STUDENTS SAILORS DURING THE STRIKE

BERKELEY, July 26.—University men are taking advantage of the opportunity to make money, to travel and spend their summer vacation judiciously as sailors and stewards on some of the coast vessels, while the union sailors and seamen are on a strike.

Ernest Sinclair of last year's freshman class, is now quartermaster of the steamer State of California, which runs between San Francisco and San Diego. Sinclair has had a good deal of ocean travel and has already acquired the "sea legs" of an old star.

Philip Stafford of the junior class and a fraternity brother of Sinclair, is steward of the Brunswick, which runs up the coast to Fort Bragg. The boys do not seem to fear the wrath of the Sailors' Union and say they will continue to go to sea until college opens.

DR. BREILING RECOVERS RIG

ALAMEDA, July 26.—The horse and buggy of Dr. O. F. Breiling of Oakland, which was stolen from the front of his residence on Eighth street Tuesday, was recovered in this city yesterday. The thief had tied the horse on Park avenue and left it standing for several hours. Residents noticed that the horse and buggy had been there for a considerable time, and as no one claimed it notified the police. Dr. Breiling came over yesterday and took the equine home with him.

CHARMING SOCIETY BUD TO FOLLOW ART CAREER

MISS MABEL BURNETT.

Berkeley Maiden, a Descendant of Governor Burnett, Abandons Social Ambitions.

BERKELEY, July 26.—Miss Mabel Burnett, one of the most popular girls of the college town, has forsaken society, to fit herself for an artistic career, and has selected art-photography as a vocation. She anticipates opening a studio sometime in the near future.

Miss Burnett was a student at Mills college, where she devoted most of her time to the study of the higher branches of literature and art. She was esteemed for her superior intellect, and was considered one of the brightest girls in the seminary. The artistic temperament was clearly defined in all her work. She is also rated as a clever pianist, and a charming entertainer.

Miss Burnett has a delightful personality, and made her debut in society last winter. She is the youngest daughter of the late Dr. J. H. Burnett of San Francisco, and grand niece of the late Governor Peter Burnett, one of the first chief executives of the State of California.

SKIRTS WERE HIS WATERLOO

Attorney Who Went to Alameda Finds Commercialism Unprofitable.

ALAMEDA, July 26.—Charles Kohler, a San Francisco attorney, who came to Alameda shortly after being burned out on the other side of the bay, has found that the cleaning and dyeing business in which he engaged when he came here is not to his liking and has left the city.

Shortly after his arrival Kohler secured quarters on Santa Clara avenue and opened a cleaning and dyeing establishment. He secured solicitors and was making a good profit when he embarked in the cleaning of women's attire. From that time on his troubles increased and he was finally compelled to quit business a few days ago because of his ambition as a cleaner of the skirts of the feminine sex.

Kohler found it easy to crease trousers and rub the spots from them, but when he started in to dyeing the skirts, that were turned into him by his solicitors, he met his Waterloo. Three skirts had been turned in on one day and Kohler started to clean them. They were dipped in chemicals and a warm red skirt turned to a dirty brown. Then the trouble started. Black turned to green and purple to gray. Kohler was forced to send the skirts to an Oakland cleaner. Two of them were ruined and he was forced to pay for them. His experiment in cleaning skirts cost him over $30 and he was forced to quit business.

DRUMMOND MACGAVIN LEAVES ON LONG TRIP

BERKELEY, July 26.—J. Drummond MacGavin, a graduate of the college of mining, with the class of 1904, and for two years inter-collegiate and coast champion tennis player, left yesterday for Mexico. He goes to take up mining engineering in the central part of the country, and will be gone indefinitely.

While at the University MacGavin was a well known scholar and ably fitted himself for mining engineering. After graduating he made a tour of the world, spending much time in South Africa, where he studied the methods used in the Kimberly mines.

He returned to his home in San Francisco when news of the earthquake reached him. Since then he has been making tests in lime deposits at Monterey.

MacGavin was probably the best intercollegiate tennis player on this coast, winning his matches with Stanford for four successive years. During his last year he won the championship of the coast.

PROMINENT STUDENTS IN WORKING COLONY

Bunch of 'Varsity Men Working for Railroad.

GEORGE JONES.

BERKELEY, July 26.—News comes from some university students in Oroville that there are quite a colony of university men in that city. Prominent fraternity men and "barbs" alike are reported as handling the surveying instruments for the Western Pacific Railroad Company in their new surveys in that section.

The Kappa Sigma fraternity is represented by George Jones, who graduated from the university this year with the class of 1906. He was a prominent student, especially in the social way, and to see him handle the levels would no doubt be a surprise to his many friends in the smart set.

But Jones is not alone in his work in the rough country around the region of Oroville. Among the others who are in the party are Channing Hall, the famous high jumper, who, with his brother, Chaffee, is spending his vacation there.

Reginald Clifford heads the party of engineers. There are also three other students in the surveying outfit—Jesse Neighbor, Timothy Fogg and Harold Raymond.

WOMAN'S NOSE NEARLY SEVERED

Scythe in Hands of Lad Slips and Strikes Victim in Face.

BERKELEY, July 26.—The slipping of a scythe from the hands of one of the boys who was cutting grass in her yard nearly cost a woman her nose. She is Mrs. John Hueston of Tenth street, between Bancroft and Channing way. She was picking up some grass when the instrument slipped from the hands of the boy who was using it and struck her in the face, cutting a deep gash in her nose. The sharp blade very nearly entered the eyeball, and it was feared for a time that the optic would be permanently injured.

Mrs. Hueston was taken to her home and a surgeon called. The physician was compelled to take several stitches before the wound could be closed. The flesh of the nose was hanging by a mere thread, and considerable care had to be exercised in sewing it on. A cut in the eye was also closed up by the silken threads.

PLAN OUTING FOR UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

BERKELEY, July 26.—Two events of more than ordinary interest have been planned for the summer session students by two instructors. A lecture will be given tomorrow night that should prove of great instruction to both students and their friends. An interesting trip to Mt. Hamilton to see the big Lick observatory in action is the other.

Ezequiel A. Chavez, under secretary of public instruction of the republic of Mexico, will deliver an address in Hearst hall tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "The Antiquities of Mexico." This lecture, dealing with old Mexico and delivered by a man who is ably qualified to speak on such a subject, should attract both students and their friends to hear the interesting discourse. One of the features of the lecture will be a number of lantern slides fully illustrating the lecture.

A trip to Mt. Hamilton for a visit to the Lick Observatory reflector has been planned by Dr. Newkirk of the astronomy department. The journey to the mountain will be made on Saturday. Dr. Newkirk has secured reduced rates from the railroad company for the jaunt.

JUROR FRIEND OF THE "QUEEN"

Fanny Rosenthal Had Personal Acquaintance in Jury Box

BERKELEY, July 26.—Chief of Police Vollmer made the announcement yesterday that he has been informed that one of the jurors who tried Fanny Rosenthal at her first trial on Monday was a personal friend of the accused woman. The name of the juror was L. C. Simpson, but, although it is asserted that he was a personal friend of the alleged shoplifter, he stood out for her conviction, as he thought that the evidence against the diamond queen was conclusive.

"Yes, I have heard," said Attorney Goodfellow, who conducted the case for the people at the trial, "that one of the jurors in the case was a personal friend of Mrs. Rosenthal, but I cannot say at this time whether a new trial will be ordered."

KNOT TIED BY GROOM'S FATHER

News of Wedding of Berkeley Lawyer and Artist Is Given to Friends.

BERKELEY, July 26.—The news of the wedding on Sunday last of Henry Ballantine, the lawyer and instructor at the university, and Miss Grace Wetherel, the artist, has just leaked out, and the happy couple are receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

The ceremony was performed at Mill Valley by the father of the groom, the Rev. G. W. Ballantine, of Springfield, Mass. Although no formal announcement of the nuptials had been made, it was known to the friends of the couple that they were engaged, but it was not expected that the marriage would take place so soon.

To be married by the father of the groom was the intention of the couple, and that was the reason that they were united sooner than their friends had expected.

The news of the ceremony was kept quiet, and Mr. and Mrs. Ballantine left for a brief honeymoon trip. They have now returned and are residing in Berkeley. Mrs. Ballantine is a beautiful girl, and both she and her husband are well known in Berkeley and San Francisco.

The father of the groom recently delivered an address on "Roosevelt as a Literary Man" before the students of the state university.

CHILD MAY DIE AS RESULT OF FALL

BERKELEY, July 26.—Death is hovering over the bedside of little Blanche Morgan of 2417 McKinley street, who sustained serious injuries in a fall from a ladder Monday evening at her home.

She had a sinking spell at 8 o'clock last evening and heroic measures had to be resorted to to save her life.

The child is lying in a semi-conscious condition, and there is little hope held out for her recovery.

SAVED FROM MAD STEER

Berkeley Man Has Narrow Escape From Death in Slaughter House

BERKELEY, July 26.—A West Berkeley man by the name of George Johnson, who resides at 1731 Sixth street, narrowly escaped death yesterday afternoon while at work at the Grayson & Owen slaughter house, where he is employed.

Johnson, whose work is to knock the cattle for slaughter after they are run into a chute, had delivered a stunning blow to the head of a steer, and was preparing to drag the animal out in order to attach it to the conveyor, when the steer regained consciousness and, struggling to its feet, started for Johnson with lowered head.

In the attempt to regain its feet the steer kicked Johnson over the right eye, partially stunning the man, and making it difficult for him to evade the infuriated animal. But for the timely arrival of Antone Thomas, another West Berkeley man, Johnson would undoubtedly have been gored to death.

Thomas, who was near by at the time, heard Johnson cry out when he was struck in the face. Instantly he realized what had occurred, and seizing a rope, he ran to the pen where he knew Johnson was at work. He arrived none too soon, for in an instant the steer, which was on its feet again, would have been upon the half-dazed man who was unable to get out of the way.

Thomas, who is an expert with the lasso, dropped the loop over the steer, throwing the animal to the ground within a few feet of Johnson.

Before the animal could do further damage Thomas completed the work that had been started by Johnson, and within a few minutes the carcass of the steer was on its way to the dressing hooks.

NOVEL PLAN TO STOP AUTOISTS

Hayward May Build Fences Across the Road to Make Slower Speed

HAYWARD, July 26.—Hayward may adopt a new method of preventing automobilists from exceeding the speed laws. The plan is to place three movable fences, each reaching over half way across the road, directly across the driveway and one a little in the advance of the other.

Vehicles would then be required to go at a slow rate in order to make the turn around the ends of these fences.

At present the rate of speed reached by automobiles in passing through the town is extremely dangerous to teams and pedestrians.

ALAMEDA STREETS ARE DISCUSSED

ALAMEDA, July 26.—The Central Improvement club at its meeting last night discussed at length the condition of the streets in this city. The members were complimentary to Superintendent of Streets Frodden and favored the oiling of the streets about the city.

A large number of the avenues and streets are now covered with the oil and when it hardens a fine street is the result.

There was some discussion on the new charter. President Noy stated that the citizens' duty now was to put good men into office at the next election.

ALAMEDA MAN GIVEN NEW JOB

ALAMEDA, July 26.—John A. Hartog, former manager of the Alameda Advancement Association, has been elected secretary of the Colusa County Chamber of Commerce at a salary of $200 a month. It was Hartog's splendid work in Alameda which drew from the Colusa organization the offer he has just accepted. The Advancement association has temporarily abandoned active operation on account of the San Francisco disaster, which so affected many of the organization's members that a major portion of the revenue of the association was cut off.

NEED MILLIONS FOR STREETS

Superintendent Ott Completes Estimate for His Department.

According to the estimate of Superintendent of Streets Ott, it would require $1 000 000 to put the streets of this city in a condition to meet the requirements The large addition to the population and the great increase in the amount of traffic as the result of the San Francisco conflagration has damaged many of the streets south of Seventh street as well as the main bituminized thoroughfares

Superintendent Ott states that it will take all the available funds that can be had for the ensuing year He is now preparing his itemized estimate in accordance with the request from City Auditor Breed, who has asked the heads of all departments for their estimates for the fiscal year July 1, 1906 to July 1 1907

Superintendent Ott says that to improve Fifth street it would require $100,000 This thoroughfare is used by heavy teams and is now in an almost impassable condition

VARIOUS ESTIMATES.

For the improvement of other streets Superintendent Ott makes the following estimates $30 000 to repair Washington street $40 000 for the rebituminizing of Broadway and $60,000 to put Franklin street in good condition from First to Fourteenth street, and $40 000 to bituminize San Pablo avenue from Twentieth to Thirty sixth street, and an outlay of $25 000 to macadamize East Fourteenth street, from Twenty-first avenue to the county line

The heads of departments claim that they are confronted with a large addition to the population without a corresponding increase in the public revenues

Superintendent Ott finds that there is a scarcity of street sprinklers as many are now being used in San Francisco He is figuring on the cost of installing salt water plants and saving to the city the amount of the present water bill, which is $35 000

MINK DROWNS BABE TO SAVE IT FROM MAN

MONTREAL, July 26 —George Weston, who has been fishing in the Lake St John district, tells a story of an incident which occurred during his trip which throws a new light on animal life and adds strength to the theory that certain mammals now and then reason

With a guide Mr Weston was fishing near the shore of a small lake when he observed a female mink on the shore playing with three kittens not more than a month old In the bottom of the canoe was a shotgun loaded with No 5 shot, and when the sportsman called the attention of the Canuck guide to the mink family he picked up the gun and without any reason whatsoever shot at the minks

Two of the young were killed outright the mother was mortally injured and the remaining mink, while not hit was so paralyzed from fright that he crouched on the ground and was unable to make his escape The mother cried piteously crawled to and nosed the two dead babies and then tried frantically to urge the live one to cover All this time she kept her eyes on the canoe which the guide was forcing toward the shore in order to capture the live baby

'There isn t any question in my mind that the mother mink knew just what that guide was up to says Mr Weston for just as we got close to shore she summoned her failing strength caught her baby by the scruff of the neck and dove into the water When she got to the bottom she opened her mouth far enough to grasp a weed and then and there she and her offspring drowned We found them both fifteen minutes later in not more than four feet of water I am certain that she drowned her young rather than have the guide take it'

BEES, NOT WATER FLOWED FROM TAP

ASHLAND, Me, July 26 —The queerest abode for bees has been discovered by John Ames, a New Hampshire man, who is one of the owners of a substantial shanty near the shore of Second Musquocook Lake, in Aroostook county He tells the story thus

"Sydney Pratt and I went on July 1 to slick up for the bunch and see how fish were biting We carried provisions and after we had got straightened around Sydney said he was sick of carrying water and was going to repair an old spout we had running from a spring fifty rods back of the shanty to the back door

"This spout had got out of order just before we broke camp last summer and before it could be used we had to lower the end at the spring The thing was made from bored saplings like a spout used to conduct maple sap in the backwoods and was serviceable enough as long as it stayed in repair While we were mending it my partner thought he might as well make a kitchen sink and this he did, lengthening the spout and pushing it between the logs over the sink

'Well when he got things ready he called to me to stand by and see that it didn't flood the cabin Then he turned on the water For about ten seconds nothing happened then I heard a queer muffled buzzing and out of the sink end of that spout flowed about seven million of the maddest bees you ever laid eyes on They filled the shanty got in my hair and clothes and then took after Sydney They stung like blazes and we had to leg it for the woods to get rid of em

We didn t know just what to do, but finally we sneaked up on the windward side of the shanty built a fire by the open door and smoked the bees out After that we investigated the spout and got quite a mess of honey that had been left over from last year It washed right out with the water '

RUBE IN TOWN

Rube came to town yesterday and hitching his team to a tree on Ninth street entered a barber shop for a shave It was a shop with a dozen chairs and when he was duly scraped, he received a check to liquidate with the boss barber at the head of the row with the statement that all checks must be cashed with the proprietor Transferring the check and money with the proper custodian he walked out and sauntered into a restaurant next door, where having partaken of a meal he received a check for its price Remembering his experience at the barber's, he walked out of the restaurant, but was pursued by the waiter, who demanded that he pay for his meal.

Tust you keep your shirt on, sonny" said Rube, 'and you ll see me pay for the grub all right all right Whereupon he bolted into the barber shop

Don t you think I ain t onto you bunko fellers," said Rube "I got my orders that all checks must be cashed with this barber shop, and you bet he gets all my checks And Rube planked down his check and money for the meal and, turning on his heel sarcastically suggested to the waiter that they could fight it out mong themselves

End of Railroad Strike Pleases Merchants of Bay Cities.

The strike of the Southern Pacific Company's freight handlers ended yesterday afternoon when their employers granted the men the raise in wages they demanded which is from 22½ to 25 cents an hour This will probably solve the freight congestion difficulty immediately It is expected that things will move as before in the San Francisco and Oakland yards of the company and that merchants will now receive their freight without delay

Hardly had the news of the settlement of the freight handlers strike become known than the switchmen employed in the Oakland yards announced that they would quit at the end of sixty days unless their wages are increased The demands have been sent to the officials of the company and are being considered

The raise is to date from August 1 The men returned to work yesterday afternoon Those who walked out on Tuesday evening formed a committee composed of Henry Marks V Cameron and Poore Downey who arranged the settlement with the company

FAMINE IN LABOR MARKET

S. F. Contractors, Railroads and Farmers Need Thousands.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—The demand for labor in California promises to exceed the supply for many months to come. The railroads want a large number of laborers for prospective work that is under way. The Southern Pacific needs 3000 men, the Western Pacific 7000, the United Railways of San Francisco 3000, the outside electric lines building in the Santa Clara, San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys and Southern California want two thousand. The steam railways report a demand for switchmen, warehousemen and even clerks.

BIG DEMAND.

The reconstruction of San Francisco, the very large railway extensions and improvements, the unusually heavy crops and development work in national and local irrigating projects and in mountain power plants, have worked together to create a tremendous demand.

The vineyardists of the San Joaquin valley, alarmed at the harvest outlook, have appointed committees to canvass all available fields for help. There are 350,000 tons of grapes to be gathered and by piecework good workmen at wages offered will make from two dollars and a quarter to three dollars and a half per day.

CROPS HEAVY.

The beet crops along the coast line and in Southern California are very heavy, and the prune crop in the Santa Clara valley is double that of last year. The greatly increased demand for California lumber, both in the east and locally, causing mills to run night and day, has doubled the demand for millmen.

A thorough canvass by a local committee in San Francisco shows that subcontractors in building trades are having either to throw up contracts or secure postponements because of the scarcity of workmen. The Building Trades Council advise that there is a great shortage of men in the building trades.

NO ARTIZANS.

There is a strong demand for 20,000 houses to be built in San Francisco immediately, but the artisans necessary to do the work are not here. It is estimated that nearly one-half of a billion dollars is to be spent in reconstructing San Francisco in the next five years This work is already being delayed on account of actual and prospective lack of labor.

CITY NEEDS 15,000.

Fifteen thousand more men can find ready employment in reconstruction work at good wages.

A minimum wage for laborers on railroad work and in warehouses in San Francisco is now $2.25 per day. Bricklayers are receiving $7 and $8 for eight-hour day, with minimum wage of $6. Cement workers get $5 hod carriers $4, plasterers $6, stonecutter $4.75, carpenters $4, cabinet makers $3.50, millmen $3.50, lathers $6, shinglers $4, painters $4, fresco painters $5, paperhangers $4, plumbers $5, machinists $3.70, tinners $4, sheet metal workers $4, glaziers $4, stationary engineers $4.

40,000 FOR STATE.

There is a very strong demand at high wages varying according to the work for teamsters and electricians

Altogether California offers employment to not less than 40,000 men at the highest wages on record.

CRIPPLES FIGHT OVER MISFORTUNES

ITHACA, N. Y., July 26.—A discussion among four cripples as to which was the most unfortunate ended in a bloody fight in St. John's hotel, near the Lackawanna station, here last night. Abraham Spicer, who has one shrunken leg, entered the hotel with a cripple who had lost both legs. Within they found a one-armed man talking with John Diffin, the proprietor, whose left arm was amputated at the elbow. The one-armed guest started a discussion by saying that he was the most unfortunate man of the lot, and Spicer put forward the claims of his companion. In the course of argument one of the cripples drew a pistol, but before he could fire there was a general mix-up in which Spicer received several long scalp wounds. Spicer has sworn out a warrant for Diffin, who, he says, hit him with his own cane, charging assault in the third degree. The other two cripples have disappeared.

"Whereas, foremost among the workers not only for the personal relief of the distressed thousands, but the restoration of business confidence from the chaotic situation, stood our peerless governor, George C. Setliff, W. Wallenberg, H. Shuttleworth of No. 18, and H. Patrick of No. 2. The San Francisco delegation brought with them several candidates for the honors of knighthood and in conjunction with the three esquires, the home lodge received the rank in amplified form. Captain Bernstein's assertion that he would have present on the night in question a team second to none in the domain of California was truthfully demonstrated, the work being accomplished in a manner that was beyond criticism. ORDER OF RED MEN.

Tecumseh tribe No. 62, Improved Order of Red Men, adopted five pale faces at its last regular meeting, making a total of twelve since June 20, and to all appearances it will be an easy matter to keep up this average because all the brothers are working hard for the success of this tribe. There is also serious talk of an immense baseball contest between Tecumseh No. 62 of Oakland and Cherokee No. 101 of Berkeley, in full Indian costume, to take place in the near future, and it is hoped that the general public will assist in making this affair a great success. Several well known and popular merchants will be seen in costume on the diamond, while others will be amusing the audience in various ways. Brothers J. M. Rule and J. Compiano are doing valuable work in capturing pale faces and are untiring in their efforts for the advancement of No. 62.

Brother Bob Stoker has made a name for himself by his witticisms and timely advice being known among the boys as "Philosophical Bob," and his thorough knowledge of affairs fraternal has endeared him to the chiefs of No. 62. Brother Neason has worked hard and accomplished much for the tribe and now that he is in the chair much more is expected from him, and with the help of Senior Sachem Kerrigan should make this term a success in every detail.

Brother Jack Byrne still takes care of the money. Visiting brothers are welcome.

UNCAS TRIBE.

The new term has opened auspiciously for Uncas tribe No. 137, Imp. O. R. M. Although the membership was largely increased during last term, the prospects are that that record will be surpassed, three candidates now awaiting degrees and another application having been received at the last council. The degree team, which had suspended work for the summer months, will, on account of the number of applications coming in, resume conferring degrees some time in August.

Another competition, similar to that which proved so popular last term, is soon to be opened. All those who participated in the last will recall with delight the bounteous banquet awarded the winning side. There's another one in store.

At the last meeting, Friday, July 20, Brothers Stowers of Alabama, Janes of Tulare and Seg. Genzberger of Montana were present. Uncas tribe is famous for its hospitality to visitors and many assemble around its council fire. A special invitation is extended to all non-resident Red Men to attend the meetings. Resident brothers need none.

The public will be pleased to learn that a whist tournament—one of those "Uncas tournaments"—is in preparation. Watch for the announcement.

WOMEN OF WOODCRAFT.

Oakland Circle No. 286, W. of W., held a very interesting meeting last Saturday evening with the new officers in their chairs.

The ritualistic work was gone through latter-perfect, much to the credit of the new officers. New applications were received and the future looks bright for a busy and prosperous term.

On Saturday evening, July 28, the committee on home social has arranged for an evening of whist for its members, and some handsome prizes will be awarded to the lucky neighbors.

The circle is working under a dispensation and new members are being received at reduced rates.

WOODMEN OF WORLD.

Forest Camp, W. O. W., is getting down to business again and is doing some of its old-time hustling. Applications are beginning to come in, while many more are reported on the way, and the new officers and degree team will be kept busy initiating the many candidates. In appreciation of the good work being done by the members the camp is giving some handsome prizes. A very pleasant and interesting meeting was held last Monday evening and plans are being made to have a series of attractive social features. The members who fail to be present next Monday evening will miss a rare treat.

LIVE OAK LODGE NO. 17.

Last Wednesday evening the regular session of Live Oak Lodge No. 17, K. of P., was as usual one of interest and greatly enjoyed by all present.

The night rank (long form) was impressively conferred upon Esquire Louis Schwartz by the team of this lodge.

The usual large attendance was present, and although the lodgeroom was being repaired and was full of staging, the officers deserve a great deal of credit for the very efficient manner in which each one performed his work.

At the regular session on August 8, two strangers will be initiated and all brothers are cordially invited to be present.

The new castle hall is rapidly nearing completion and all are anxiously waiting for the time to come when the Pythian Hall association will dedicate the new home.

CONCORDIA LODGE.

Concordia Lodge, German Rebekahs, had a very enjoyable meeting at their new hall last Saturday evening. District D. P. Sister Krell, with her staff of grand lodge officers came from San Francisco to install the vice grand-elect, Sister Mueller. The lodge presented each officer with a beautiful bouquet, also Sister Mueller, and all were happy and grateful. After the impressive ceremony the N. G. invited all present to ice cream and cake.

ABSIT INVIDIA LODGE.

Absit Invidia Lodge of Rebekahs met in regular session at its hall last Tuesday evening and the new officers did their work nobly. The salary of the pianist, by her own motion, was reduced from four dollars per month to two dolalrs and one-half. There being no special work before the lodge, the closing hours were devoted to drill, with Sister Alberton Burges acting as drill-master, in which sphere she has no peer.

REBEKAH LODGE NO. 16.

Oakland Rebekah Lodge No. 16, I. O. O. F., had a large attendance last Saturday evening. The hall was beautifully decorated with flowers, ferns and palms.

The following officers were installed for the present term by D. D. P., Sister Clara Noble, and Grand Marshal Sister Ernestine Nash, both of No. 16, and the installing team: J. P. G., Grace Keheler; noble-grand, Pauline Strassburg; vice-grand, Leonora Maganini; recording secretary, Grace McPhail; financial secretary, Cornelia Colbourn; treasurer; Mary Keeler; chaplain, Ernestine Nash; R. S. N. G., Louise Elmore; L. S. N. G., Mary Schneider; warden, Glean Miller; conductor, Laura Freister; inside guardian, Irene Dowling; outside guardian, Alvin Keeler; R. S. V. G., Etta Howe, and L. S. V. G., Anna Goldspring. The D. D. P., Sister Noble, and Grand Marshal, Sister Nash, were presented with bouquets, also the J. P. G., N. G., V. G., and chaplain were presented with flowers from Brother Franke.

Sister Grace McPhail presented the retiring J. P. N. G., Sister Nash, with a beautiful jewel in a most befitting manner, and also presented Sister Maganini with a pin in the shape of three links, for bringing in the most members.

Ice cream and cake were served to all present. There will be no drill Saturday evening.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE.

At the regular meeting of Albion Lodge, Sons of St. George, at California hall on Monday evening last, considerable business was quickly dispensed with. There was a good attendance, and the members seem to have recovered from the effects of the recent disaster, and are anxious to get down to lodge business again. Past Presidents L. Hobinson and F. W. Wheeler were presented with badges, amid great applause. Both retiring presidents responded with eloquent speeches. It was decided that a stag party should be held in the near future and a committee was appointed to make preparations for the same. Several applications for membership were received, and President Sully's term has made a good beginning.

FRATERNAL BROTHERHOOD.

Oakland lodge No. 123, The Fraternal Brotherhood, held its regular business meeting last Thursday evening at Hovey hall. There was a good attendance and considerable business was transacted. There were also several applications for membership. After lodge adjourned dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

This evening the shirt waist dance will be held immediately after a short session of the lodge. The gentlemen will be allowed to wear negligee shirts with belts.

It is hoped that all friends will attend, as a good time is premised. Invitations can be secured from the lodge members.

A mid-summer meeting of the Illinois society will be held on the evening of the first Monday in August, the 6th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Henderson, 1300 Webster street.

SEALS WIN; OAKS SHUT OUT FRESNO

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

It was a case of even up yesterday. The Seals retrieved their loss of the preceding day at Idora Park by defeating Loo Loos to the tune of 6 to 4. Hitt and Burns, the opposing twirlers, pitched splendid ball, allowing but a half a dozen safe hits each during the game.

The Angels were in the fight all the way through the game, but five errors were scored on the tally keepers' book against them. Three of these were made by the third baseman, McClelland, and put them out of the running. Dillon had blood in his eye as he left the diamond last night and promised that there would be things doing all the time in today's game. It is expected there will be a severe shake-up in the Loo Loo line shortly. Dillon is determined the Angel contingent is not to be the loser of this week's series with the Seals.

SCORE TWICE.

In the first inning the Angels scored twice, Bernard's single, a free pass to Gochnauer, Cravath's two-bagger and Dillon's infield out doing the business. Before the game Parke Wilson announced that Joe Corbett is going to help him out while Irwin is laid up, and the popular Joseph was holding down the center garden while the southerners did their scoring.

In the fourth inning Mohler walked and Hildebrand doubled. After Williams flew out to center Corbett hit the leather for two bags and scored both men, coming home himself a few seconds later on Toman's error. Dillon hadn't objected to Corbett's being in the game so long as he didn't think him dangerous, but when Joe swatted the sphere for two bags the captain awoke and entered a protest.

Two more runs put the Angels ahead in the sixth, but the Seals tide it up in the seventh and cinched the victory in the eighth by bringing two men across the pan. Here's the score:

OAKS WIN.

PORTLAND IS VICTORIOUS AGAIN

PORTLAND, July 26.—Oscar Jones was again unlucky yesterday. He allowed only four hits, but these were bunched in two innings and the Beavers scored three runs. Cliff pitched a good game till the seventh, when he put himself in a tight hole, but Seattle only made one run.

Essick relieved him in the eighth, after Seattle had made two safe hits off him. In the sixth, with Mitchell on third, Smith pulled off the squeeze play, for which he was loudly applauded. Van Buren's fielding and batting was a feature of the game.

ASSOCIATION TO CONTROL THE BOXING

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—The California Athletic Association assumed control of amateur boxing at its meeting last night in the rooms of the Hayes Valley Club. It now remains for the supervisors to accept the association as the governing body of the sport.

It is said the supervisors look with favor upon the association. The preliminary step will be to submit to the board the rules under which boxing will be controlled.

A limit of either $50 or $60 will be placed on prizes, and a small amount will be allowed for training expenses.

The clubs represented last night were the Hawthorne, California, Hayes Valley, Sunset, Lincoln, Bay City, Central and Reliance of Oakland. The matter of apportioning dates was not discussed. E. J. Kaplan is president of the association and Al Murphy secretary.

May Live 100 Years.

The chances for living a full century are excellent in the case of Mrs. Jennie Duncan of Haynesville, Me., now 70 years old. DISSIPATION IS NEVER A LOSER

"Dissipation is the greatest champion of all," declared a Detroit veteran athlete. "It is the undoer of many and many a champion."

In training for athletic contests a man must be willing to stand a long siege of conscientious work. He must keep away from all forms of dissipation. Men who are subject to weak heart or lungs should not undergo the hard siege necessary to become a successful athlete. The danger of permanently injuring themselves is too great to take any risk. A man before beginning athletic exercise should be physically fit. He should undergo an examination by a competent physician before entering upon athletics.

ATHLETIC HEART.

One of the few evil consequences of training is the development of what is known to the medical profession as an "athletic heart." This condition is brought about through the over-development of a heart muscle through long continued training. It is more liable to occur among long distance runners than in any other branch of sport.

The main object in training is to get the man in good physical condition, whereby he may be able to put in play all the nervous energy, endurance, muscle power and brain power that he possesses. To do this he must exercise common sense in eating. No one should eat too much, whether an athlete or not. Athletes should eat food that is easily digested and does not overtax the digestive organs. Rare meats (broiled), mutton chops, chicken, potatoes, eggs, bread, fruit, vegetables, according to medical opinion, constitute the chief substances for diet of the athlete. Regularity of meals is important.

LIGHT LUNCH.

Before entering into any athletic contest a light lunch should be taken at least two hours before the contest. Sleep is of great importance to men in training—plenty of rest, the more the better. Every athlete, when in training, should retire not later than 10:30 p. m.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the taking up of athletic work in a too

GANS COMING HERE AT ONCE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Events are moving swiftly toward the consummation of the Gans-Nelson match. While Eddie Graney was dictating a telegram yesterday to Gans at Portland, urging him to come to this city at once, he received the folowing:

"Portland, July 25.—Eddie Graney, horseshoer, Van Ness avenue and Market street: Arrive San Francisco Monday. Where can I meet you?

"JOE GANS."

"I know that whenever I want Gans and Nelson to fight the match will be held," said Graney in discussing the situation. "I will guarantee it will be on the level and I will stake everything I have on that proposition. The match will be made at 133 pounds ringside. I am sure Nelson will meet Gans whenever I ask him."

ANY TERMS SUIT GANS.

PORTLAND, July 26.—"This fight with Holly is my last with a colored fighter," said lightweight champion Joe Gans yesterday. "The black boys are too tough. I draw the color line. Nelson has agreed to let down the color line to meet me, so I'm after him. There's no city in the east where we could draw any kind of a crowd. As for those six round fights—pooh pooh.

"I will fight Battling Nelson on any terms he may demand. I will meet him winner take all or on a percentage basis, sixty per cent to the winner and forty per cent to the loser. I will agree to make 133 pounds at the ringside. To guarantee that the fight will be strictly on the square and above board in every way I will agree to post $5000 to be forfeited if I break a single condition in any way. San Francisco is the only city in the country where we can fight before a real money-making house," said Gans.

CHAMPIONS TO RACE AT RINK

There should be some "tall" struggling and some exciting scenes at the Lakeside Skating Rink this evening, for one of the best contests that have ever been put on there is scheduled for settlement tonight, and it goes without saying that all the "regulars" and not a few of the nonattenders—those who only turn out when there is something out of the ordinary to call for their presence—will be on hand to witness the battle.

This is to be no less than a match race between champions for a purse of $50 and the glory of victory, which in this case is just about as much sought after, on account of the well-known ability of both men, as is the coin of the realm involved. Charles Bernard, champion of Sacramento, and Charles Clark, champion of Fresno, are to be pitted against each other and the result doubtless will be well worth witnessing. Clark won first place in a six-day race at Fresno the other day, and the laurels he gathered in there have made him the envied of all the envious. Therefore Bernard is all the more anxious to take his scalp, which Clark says is sewed on too tight to be removed. The truth or falsity of that will be shown this evening at 9:30 at the Lakeside rink.

PASTOR SAYS HE DIDN'T PITCH

GURNEVILLE, Cal., July 24.—Editor Oakland TRIBUNE:

Dear Sir—In your issue of July 19th there was an article headed "Sunday ball for church benefit."

So far as the church and pastor are concerned they had nothing whatever to do with the game.

The pastor did not pitch the "first ball," nor any other, for that matter.

It was not played as a church benefit.

Respectfully,
R. W. BYRNE,
Pastor Gurneville M. E. church.

GREAT HORSES HAVE HOBBIES

When Sysonby was suffering intensely from the skin disease which ultimately caused his death, the great horse had but one comforter, a little shaggy-eared pony. The presence of his little friend always seemed to make Sysonby feel better, and if at any time the pony was taken far away, Sysonby seemed to know it, and would show his displeasure by plaintive whines.

It is a fact well known among trainers that many great race horses, like great men, have their hobbies, their likes and dislikes. In a race they will often show some sign that, to the initiated, indicates joy or chagrin, or augurs defeat or victory.

Old Advance Guard, who was one of the gamest old horses in the country, had a peculiar habit in the running of a race, easily observable to those who watched him closely, of working his ears back and forth. When there was a horse in front of him he would move one ear backward and the other forward, but the moment he nailed his rival the ears became fixed, one pointing forward, the other backward. Then it was time for his backers to make their way to the betting ring and cash their tickets.

REALIZE BATTLE.

Most horses realize when they are in a battle. Old Juggler used to fight the other horses coming down the stretch. He would swing his head around with his mouth open and nip everything that came his way. He didn't care whether it was a jockey's leg or the neck of a racer. Once he pulled Fred Taral clean off his mount at the post. Juggler evidently believed in trying to lessen the chances of the other horses opposed to him. Elkwood was another thoroughbred that did the same thing.

Game little Sir Walter never would run his best for any jockey but Sam Doggett. Herbert had a number of funny traits. Like Sysonby, one of his hobbies was a fondness for a little cob pony. If the pony was not taken to the paddock with Herbert before he went to a race, there was nothing doing. The old horse never went on to the track for his warming up without the pony.

Miss Woodford, one of the greatest of mares, knew well when she was going to race. She learned it from the fact that a muzzle was placed on her the morning of the day she was carded to run. If she felt well and apparently considered herself in fit condition for a race, she would hold out her head and allow the muzzle to be placed on her without the slightest resistance. If she was out of sorts, it was hard to get the muzzle on her, and the chances were she would be scratched or her owner would bet very little on her. If she was willing to run, they had her own tip that she was all right.

Blues was an erratic horse. As fast as anything on plates in his day, he would quit in the stretch at times when there was no apparent reason for it. It was the same way with Eurus, but in his case the reason was disclosed after he died, when it was found that the horse had been carrying around a tumor weighing eighty pounds.

Many horses have a liking for certain jockeys. Hermis did not care for any boy to ride him except Rice. Sysonby seemed to know Nicol better than any other boy, and Advance Guard always did his best for Odom.

STORY OF AFRICANDER.

A story is related of Africander the day he won the Suburban that would indicate the horse understood the language of an attendant. He was not an affectionate horse, but he did seem to have an especial fondness for one of his rubbers. The day the big Sheepshead Bay race was run Africander was fretful and lashed about in his stall in such a nervous way that his trainer became alarmed for fear the son of Star Ruby would worry himself into a condition that would forbid his starting in the big race.

His favorite rubber was sent into his stall and the boy began to pat his neck and whisper. "Don't you mind, old boy. You'll be all right!" Africander apparently understood, for he quieted down at once, and rubbed his nose affectionately against the boy's face as if to say, "Yes, it's all right now."

That it was all right, too, the history of the Suburban of 1903 proves, for Africander won, making a record that has never been duplicated—that of a three-year-old winning.

One of the best three-year-olds that ever ran was a horse called Sport. He was a handsome big chestnut, who did not come to his form until late in his two-year-old career. Then he got good, and he swept everything before him. At Benning he did not lose a race, and he went into winter quarters considered as good a two-year-old as had developed in the year 1882.

Sport had a good disposition as a two-year-old, and it was surprising, therefore, that when he came to the races as a three-year-old his temper had been soured. He retained all his speed, but never did a horse have such a pugnacious disposition. This grew on him until, as a four-year-old, he was the meanest race horse on the track. He would start in a race, if he got off, run for a quarter of a mile, and then deliberately prop himself and stop, often turning around and going the reverse way. He ran only one first-class race that year, finishing third to Ramapo and Banquet in the Suburban.

All sorts of tricks were tried to cure him, but Sport never amounted to anything as a race horse afterward, and was finally killed by his owner in a fit of rage at one of his tantrums.

Sport's change of disposition was probably due to one of his attendants. One day while the boy was rubbing Sport, the horse playfully poked his nose into the face of the boy. This he repeated several times, until at last the rubber became angry, and with a vicious swing, struck Sport in the nose. In doing so he broke his finger. From that time on Sport had no use for that rubber, and his dislike grew. One day Sport was being taken on to the track for a trial, and he spied the rubber standing on the lawn some distance away. Sport immediately made for him, but the boy saw him coming, and knew it was time to disappear.

CHICAGO GIVES N. Y. THE HA-HA

For the first time in a long while Chicago baseball fans have had a chance to crow over their long time rivals, the New York Giants, of the National League. They are taking advantage of it to the full. Nearly all of this season the Chicago "Cubs" have been leading in the race for the National League pennant, with the New York Giants close at their heels. The latter have vainly striven to overtake their rivals, and their chagrin at not being able to do so is only equalled by the delight of the victorious Chicagoans.

The "Cubs" have a decided lead now, and unless a big slump overtakes them, they are pretty sure to land the pennant, which will be the first time in quite a number of years.

VALLEJO BOUT POSTPONED FOR TIME

VALLEJO, July 26.—Owing to an injury to M. Ward's right forearm the twenty round contest between Ward and Fred Landers, set for this city next Thursday evening has been postponed until Tuesday evening, August 14. Ward hurt his arm when he beat Frank Rafael last month. The injured cords were healing when he strained them again while boxing in the gymnasium yesterday. Landers has agreed to the postponement on the condition that Ward pays his training expenses.

TERRY AND HIS FAILING HEAD

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., July 26.—A sorry looking Terry McGovern, with his clothes in tatters, his straw hat without a brim, and apparently out of his mind, landed in South Norwalk with a traveling bag in his hand.

"I've had a vacation and now I'm going back to the Stanford sanitarium and get pulled together," McGovern said to Conductor Arthur Morrison, on the trolley to Stamford.

"Do you know those loonies down there said I was crazy when I was there before," the ex-champion exclaimed, his eyes roving around.

The popular little fighter was apparently in need of sanitarium treatment, and his consciousness of the fact seemed to be the one notion in his head.

HELP FOR YOU

FAMOUS PACER, DAN R., DROPS DEAD

NEW YORK, July 26.—A special to the Times from Pittsburg, Pa., says:

Dan R., the famous pacer who had a record of 2:01¾, dropped dead of heart disease at the Brunot Island track here yesterday. The horse was brought to this city last Friday by Edward Benyon of Cleveland, with the understanding that if the pacer could come near equalling his former record he would be purchased by a prominent Pittsburg man. A short time ago Mr. Benyon refused $10,000 for him.

Yesterday the horse did not appear to be in good condition, but made the last quarter in :29¾. He was driven by Dave G. McDonald, general manager of the Brunot Island track. Just as he finished the quarter the horse stumbled and fell. When McDonald reached his side he was dead. Dan R. made his mark of 2:01¾ at Providence, R. I., in 1903.

KAUFMANN AND BURNS MAY FIGHT

NEW YORK, July 26.—Tommy Burns, the Western heavyweight boxer, has arrived at Los Angeles, where he intends to remain until he gets on a fight. Burns claims that Philadelphia Jack O'Brien deliberately flunked out of a match with him after agreeing to box him.

The Seattle Athletic Club had offered a purse of $9000 for them to battle for, which he accepted. O'Brien told Burns he expected 5 per cent bonus for signing the articles, but as the latter would not give in to him O'Brien threw up the bout.

Matchmaker McCarey of the Pacific Athletic Club of Los Angeles has offered Burns a match with Al Kaufmann, to be decided the last week in August. Burns has accepted. McCarey has wired to Kaufmann, who is in Philadelphia, about the match and is confident the latter will accept.

There is a war, deep and deadly, between Rube Vickers of Seattle and Dutch Hildebrand of San Francisco. It would be the easiest sort of an easy thing to sign the two men for a twenty-round go under almost any circumstances. The trouble started when the 'Frisco club was in Seattle a couple of weeks ago. Rube insisted on telling all the 'Frisco men about his sixteen strike-outs and a sixteen inning game he pitched. "When I got through," concluded the mighty Rube, "with the last ball over the plate, I fell in a dead faint, from which it took Dr. Hennessy and three others three full hours to revive me." Hildebrand laughed loudly when this was told for the third time, and now they don't speak strenuous manner at first. A young man with lots of ambition is liable to do this and in consequence bring on a strain or a fracture. The work should be begun in an easy manner and gradually increased as the muscles and body grow accustomed to the unusual strain.

PROVIDING FOR THE ORPHANS

Work of the Ladies' Protection and Relief Society.

San Francisco Ladies' Protection and Relief Society, San Francisco, July 24, 1906.—Editor TRIBUNE:

There seems to be on these two sides of our placid bay, a difference of opinion as to whether the readers of your enterprising paper may wish to learn something of the new comers, the children of the San Francisco Ladies' Protection and Relief Society.

Permit me to print a request for such information, and at the same time thank you for a favor recently extended. Possibly a few facts may warm some hearts into patience, if not kindness, toward the wandering tribe of little ones temporarily in your midst.

At the time of the earthquake and fire, two hundred and thirty-eight children were our precious charge, beside the few aged women who were comparatively happy, as members of the great family. The Relief Home was in a most fortunate condition of good order at the time, with a competent retinue of assistants, from the devoted matron to the man of all work. The board of managers was as interested, faithful and self-sacrificing, as any community could ever wish to have for its children, deprived, as these, of their natural protection and love. Alas, too, the same fate that hustled these children from the bed, board and shelter of the relief home, dealt cruelly with the managers. The society's brave, efficient, untiring president, Mrs. S. W. Dennis, was no sooner at her post of responsibility than many of the managers joined to share such with her. This in face of disaster that deprived fifteen of the twenty-four managers of 'house, home and belongings."

While the Presidio received the trudging company of wayfarers it was soon broken into squads and scattered. Nearly a hundred went to kind hands in Alameda, where the Unitarian church housed them with loving care. Twenty were later received by Dr. W. A. Clark at the hospital of Alameda county, and nursed through typhoid fever, back to health. Many of the older children were taken to Los Gatos where every kind attention was given. About fifty tiny ones were hurried away to the most hospitable of towns, Dixon, Solano county.

There is always application for children from two to twelve years of age, and the months continue to locate such in the hearts and homes of families all over the state.

After almost three months in these several places mentioned, the most of the children are under one roof in Oakland. The managers were able to accomplish this through the kindness of the trustees of the Merritt estate, Dr. A. G. Russell, Dr. P. L. Wheeler, and Mr. W. B. Bastey.

They offered the old North hall of the former Hopkins academy, and by the society's expending something between four and five thousand dollars to make it habitable for our number, we are most thankful to be temporarily there.

Our Home, at Franklin and Geary streets, was, after its first injury, badly shattered by the explosions of dynamite when it became necessary to throw down some Van Ness avenue ruins. It is now being put in order, in case there is no better place when it may seem best to return the children to San Francisco, our loved stamping ground.

This society is the oldest incorporated charity of the city. The good it has done in the relief of trouble, the protection of women and children, since the early fifties to this time of calamity, must serve as apology for any seeming intrusion upon our neighbors. Thus it is that we trust the good people of Oakland may continue their kind consideration and helpful bearing. Surely, these experiences draw heavily upon all. Sincerely,

SADA D. CORNWALL,
Corresponding Secretary.

HAY AND FEEDSTUFFS.

The spot Hay market continues firm owing to the light rail deliveries. The great bulk of arrivals are by water. Some improvement in the railroad yards is observed, though it is slight. Yesterday's arrivals of 799 tons included only 16 cars, but they were all run out. The circular of Somers & Co says:

"Shipments of Hay have been increasing somewhat on the San Francisco market during the past week, the total showing 3800 tons, in comparison with 2950 for the week preceding. The railroad company has been opening some new team tracks here, which has permitted them to give us somewhat better deliveries, although matters are still far from satisfactory. Many schooners are doing service in the Hay line and, as large quantities of Hay are accessible by boat with a few miles of extra hauling, we find that the market is being fairly supplied. We have to report, however, that there is still a considerably smaller quantity of Hay coming to market than would be noted if railroad facilities were normal. It is reported that a sweeping order has been issued against receiving freight of any kind for San Francisco until the present blockade is relieved. Should this extend into the season much further there will be grave danger of considerable quantities of Hay being spoiled by the early rains.

"Although the feeling here is somewhat weaker, yet the maintaining of high prices continues, which fact still tends to hold country values higher than crop conditions really warrant.

"The local demand continues active, with some little export movement and shipments to coastwise points.

"Quotations show practically no change from last week, although, as reported above, prices have a downward tendency."

All Feedstuffs remain as before quoted.

NEW YORK MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The opening dealings in the stock market were widely distributed with substantial gains in the majority of stocks. Southern Pacific was the notable exception and fell an extreme point on running sales at the beginning.

The first hour's business shows activity and variety, and strength developed at different points more than yesterday. Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and St. Paul showed evidence of realizing sales. The advances were Great Northern pfd and Delaware and Hudson 2½, N. Y. Central 1½, and Reading, Wabash, Amal. Copper and Republic Steel pfd about a point and U. S. Steel ⅝.

The market developed an irregular tendency during the second hour. Colorado Fuel rosel, and Tennessee Coal 1¼. The market was very dull at noon.

Bonds were active.

The market came to a standstill, stocks holding their advances, but reactionary issues showed no recovery. Declines decreased to normal proportions. Sugar lost 1¼ and Cons Gas 1.

BECOME "DOPE FIENDS" IN PRISON

There are many prison reform associations, yet I do not know of one of them that has made headway against the greatest evil in the prisons. It is the smuggling in of opium to the prisoners. More than twenty-five per cent of the men in "stir," as the prisoners term the jails, come out addicted to the use of opium. The drug gets into the jail by way of the "underground system" and under its soporific influence hundreds of the men forget for the time the curtailment of their liberty and the severity of the prison discipline. Healthy, strapping fellows, who never saw opium in their lives before, become addicted to the drug after being in prison for a time, and they come out "dope fiends."

Opium, however, is not the only prohibited article that gets into the prisons by way of the "underground system." Prisoners without "pull" get many delicacies the state does not think they should enjoy, and those with "pull" may have practically everything they want except their liberty. When John Y. McKane was in Sing Sing he had an ice chest in his cell, and it was replenished every day with fresh butter, milk, eggs, etc. A notorious bank wrecker always had a box of perfectos on tap, and "Al" Adams was able to get the most delicate of food. Prisoners with money or political friends never need fear they will be overworked in prison.—Victor Smith in the New York Press

CHINESE NEWSPAPERS.

Their Increasing Circulation and Appeal to Patriotism.

Five years ago a man seen reading a newspaper, of which very few were then published in the whole empire, was ridiculed as a follower of the foreign devils. Almost the only paper published in the capital was the Pekin Gazette, containing the decrees and doings of the court.

Now there are ten daily papers published in Pekin, among them one of the few women's dailies in the world. This paper is interesting as being largely edited by women and dealing just now with such topics as popular astronomy, geography, physical geography, the care of infants and the training of children. The general newspapers are read by all classes, and are constantly increasing their circulation. They contain Reuter's telegrams, news of the country and city, and articles of considerable length and acumen on live topics. Some are pledged to the correction of old established customs, and the contents are extremely interesting, worthy of a separate article.

By way of advertisement, or more likel ybecause of the zeal of reformers, who are responsible for the newspapers, copies are posted on blank walls and on boards set up for the purpose, so that their contents may be perused by those who would not buy. In addition a remarkable plan to secure the attention of the masses has been followed. In different places in city and suburbs have been fitted up reading halls, with benches and tables, where tea is served free, and in the evenings capable men are engaged to read and explain the papers. These men are said to be volunteers, and the halls, over twenty in number, are fitted up and supported by voluntary contributions.

There seems to be entire freedom of the press, no censorship being exercised. The papers are decent sheets, with numerous advertisements, but as yet poorly printed, for the most part with moveable lead types, which rapidly deteriorate, making reading by a foreigner very difficult, even of those sheets which are published in current Manchuria, the language of the masses.

These newspapers keep before our attention one of the most remarkable movements the world has ever seen. Each day is published a long list of names of persons, including women, who are subscribing to a fund for wiping out indemnity which the empire is paying for the Boxer uprising. All classes are giving liberally, in proportion to their means. All kinds of societies, Christian churches, and even primary schools, have been offering the contributions of their members. Recently was published a list of blind story tellers, whose living is earned by going from house to house with banjo, singing and telling romances. Where will it end?. This wave of patriotism has swept over the country. Everywhere the same feeling is shown. There is no doubt that these gifts evidence possibilities in the Chinese nature of which the world has never dreamed. With our knowledge of the systematic economy of the Chinese masses, the selfishness, the sordid parsimony of individuals; with our ideas of their lack of public spirit, such phenomena cannot be reconciled.—Century Magazine.

Reward ofr a Heroic Phone Girl.

Miss Polly Simpson, whose heroism saved thousands of dollars' worth of valuable property when fire partly destroyed the new postoffice building last Sunday, by giving the alarm and remaining at her switchboard in the burning building, was handsomely remembered by the Keystone State Telephone Company which, Saturday, presented her with a gold watch and chain. The watch, which was presented by Manager Turner, is engraved with the recipient's name and address and the following inscription:

"Presented to Miss Polly Simpson by the Keystone State Telephone Company for her bravery in saving valuable property at the postoffice building fire, Sunday, June 17."

A. F. Damon, the owner of the burned building, also presented Miss Simpson with a mammoth box of bonbons.

Miss Simpson has received scores of letters from young men all over the state congratulating her and several, it is said, contained offers of marriage.—Philadelphia Record.

MOTOR CAR GOSPEL CAMPAIGN

A Pastor Off in a Devil Wagon to Collect for a Church Debt.

PLAINFIELD. — While enjoying his annual vacation of six weeks the Rev. Philip A. Parsons, pastor of the First Church of Christ in this city, hopes to raise enough money to discharge a mortgage on the church through an auto gospel campaign. With his brother, Lester, the clergyman started in his car recently for Hamilton, Ill., where his parents live. In every town through which they pass service will be held in the streets. Collections will be taken up and the receipts will be turned over to the church trustees.

The Rev. Mr. Parsons intends to preach at each service for five minutes and then to turn on his "hymnal phonograph" while his brother passes the hat. The clergyman hopes to raise $1000. His first stop will be made at Bound Brook. From there the auto-evangelists will move on through Somerville, Raritan, Whitehouse and High Bridge. They expect to cover 100 miles a day. Upon reaching their destination they will rest for a week before returning by another route.—New York Times.

Moss Cure for Loneliness.

Miss Two-Horn, the young lady rhinoceros from Africa, who has been in the zoo but a little while, was kept from being lonely by the advent of the second horn on her nose, but now that she no longer attracts attention for that feature she has been growing lonely and melancholy. She was so despondent last week that she would not go out of the corner of her cage into the view of the visitors. The keepers tried every way to cheer her up but failed. One day an old farmer from up state was told, as he stood in front of the cage, that Miss Two-Horn was dying of homesickness. When he was informed that she came from Africa, where her home was among the bogs and swamps and lowlands, he said:

"Well, why don't you bring in a swamp to cheer her up? Go out and get some bog muck and put it in her cell for her to smell of."

Two days after a cartload of peat moss from a bog was dumped into her den Miss Two-Horn went frantic with delight, like a cat with a bag of catnip. She rolled over in the moss, tossed it on her turn-up nose and finally tried to eat it. Then she scrambled it into a bed and went to sleep in it. She has not been lonesome since. —New York World.

The Lost Family.

A great crowd had gathered to witness the closing exercises of the village school. It was 10 o'clock at night when they finished, and everybody started for home. Then suddenly some one shouted aloud: "Little Paul Chilton is lost!" Now, Paul was only 4½ years old.

The minister hurried alone down the path to the spring, hoping the little one might have taken that familiar walk. Ah sure enough, a tiny figure was coming with brave little steps up the sloping path.

"Oh, Paul," cried the minister, running toward him, "how did you come to be lost?"

"I don't fink I's losted," answered the little fellow, a quaver of relief in his voice as the big man gathered him in his arms. Then he went on in a tired little tone, "But the rest of the family must be losted, for I can't find 'em anywhere." —Utica Observer.

Whistler's Rocket in New York.

Whistler's famous nocturne in green and gold, more familiarly known as "The Falling Rocket," which was recently purchased abroad by Harris C. Fahnestock, a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, has arrived in this country and is now at the Metropolitan museum.

"The Falling Rocket" was hung in gallery 12, with other American paintings, by Assistant Curator of Paintings Brysen Burroughs, who is acting curator in the absence of Roger Fry. There are several nocturnes by Whistler, and one is owned by Mrs. Samuel Untermyer of this city.

"The Falling Rocket" depicts the dancers and spectators in Cremorne gardens appearing against the dark tones of a somber London sky on a summer night. The picture was formerly owned by William Heinemann of London and was shown in the Whistler memorial exhibition held in London a year ago.—New York Times.

Modern.

They were about to take summer boarders.

The woman, for the eternal feminine will not down, could not forego a touch of sentiment, and she was writing out a rustic sign, which she purposed nailing up by the well,—

"The old oaken bucket,
The iron-bound bucket,
The—"

But here her hand faltered.

"There's no moss on our bucket," she said, looking very blank.

The man seized the crayon, and with a bold flourish, finished the verse,—

"—sterilized bucket,
That hangs in the well."

"That's more up-to-date, anyway," he said.—From Puck.

CHINESE REFORM

They Will Now Permit Attorneys to Argue Cases in Courts.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Marked evidence of the reform which is sweeping China can be seen in a recommendations of commissioners named by the government to revise the code governing Chinese legal procedure, which were recently submitted to the Empress Dowager and Emperor for their consideration. Two revolutionary changes in the legal procedure of China are suggested. These are the right of trial by jury and the employment of attorneys for the defense of criminals. Never in the history of China has the practice of law been recognized as a reputable profession. The study of law has been frowned upon from time immemorial and only recently have attorneys been permitted to argue cases in courts, and this permission has been limited to courts in coast cities where foreigners reside. Heretofore a class of scribes versed in legal phraseology has been authorized to draw petitions and other legal documents, but these men have not been lawyers in the broader sense.

REPORT OF BOARD.

From the report of the commissioners which has just been submitted to the state department it may be seen that Japan's action in bringing its legal procedure into harmony with the European court methods have induced the Chinese commissioners to suggest the abolishment of the present antiquated methods of the Chinese empire for the present methods in vogue among all western nations. International complications as a result of the difference between the procedure in China and other parts of the world are discussed by the commission, which says:

CHINA CASES.

"In China mixed Chinese-foreign cases are daily increasing in number and complexity. Foreigners consider our manner of judgment different from theirs, and there constantly arises a difference of views. Chinese merchants, too, are not familiar with foreign regulations and constantly suspect bias and as such suspicions accumulate, harmony becomes impossible.

"Every law suit growing out of some ordinary trifling dispute becomes a question for international investigation. There have been innumerable cases of this sort in recent years. Unless the rules of court procedure be revised with changes of all kinds permitted and their adoption even being urged, although the real body (of the law) may be perfect, its general operation will not be a success and the judicial government will not be improved.

FOREIGN LAWYERS.

"Heretofore at the various ports of international trade in China foreign lawyers have already been permitted to practice in the courts. Worst of all, even the Yamens, following the custom of employing advisers, have depended upon foreigners for defense in Chinese suits, with the result that much of the obstruction has disappeared. Of course, when a case of international concern has arisen, they have invited such an attorney to conduct the case, although there is certainly no right principle of action requiring a man to assist others to the detriment of his own principle. How can one bear to think of the evils that must afterward result?"

CHANGES SUGGESTED.

As the changes suggested by the commission, if put into effect would necessitate the employment of hundreds of lawyers throughout the empire, the commissioners make the recommendation for Chinese to undertake the legal work. They suggest that henceforth in each of the provincial schools, where men are being trained in the law a definite number of students of good character "serious minded and well versed in the law" shall be selected, who, after they have completed their courses, shall receive diplomas and be apportioned among the provinces to argue cases before the courts. If such young men cannot be provided on such notice the commission recommends that each province shall select the best qualified for this work.

REFUSE PAYMENT

Insurance Companies to Hide Behind Earthquake Clause.

Six insurance companies with matured risks amounting to $15,000,000, but having in their policies the earthquake clause, practically announce through their representatives, that held a conference in this city yesterday, that San Francisco holders of their policies will not be paid the losses incurred by the April fire.

These companies are the Commercial Union Assurance, Limited, of London, the Commercial Union Fire of New York, the Palatine Fire, Limited, of London, the Alliance Assurance, Limited, of London, the Norwich Union of England and the Indemnity Fire of New York.

In the long statement issued after the conference the declaration is made that it is the desire of the companies to make good the actual loss suffered in every case in which legal liability is not doubtful." This would be cheering to the unfortunate policy holders if the companies' representatives did not practically deny legal responsibility in regard to any of the losses.

The stand is taken that the companies are not responsible for any loss caused "directly or indirectly by the earthquake," and then an elaborate attempt is made to show that every loss caused by the fire was due clearly or remotely to that disturbance. The assertion is also made that the companies can prove this.

Summing up the statement it seems as almost a direct declaration that the companies named intend to evade the payment of every loss by the San Francisco fire in which they figure unless the courts force them to settle, though they do say that there are some losses which they will "adjust."

It is claimed in the statement that more damage was caused by the earthquake than the policy holders will admit, but the main point made in substantiation of the operation of the earthquake clause is that the temblor shut off the water supply and thus "indirectly" caused the burning of the city. These agents of companies that were supposed to insure go still further and make the claim that they are not responsible even in cases where a fire was started by some cause other than the earthquake and in a locality where there was sufficient water, as the main fire caused by the temblor kept the fire fighters busy in other parts of the city.

CLUB DESIRES IMPROVEMENT

Central Oakland Organization Discussed Action of City Council.

The Central Oakland Improvement club met last evening to consider the welfare and improvement of the district embraced in the first ward of the city.

R. D. Holmes reported that he had interviewed the city officials upon the matter of improving Mushrod park, but with little satisfaction from them. The city engineer admitted that the city had purchased land in the Colby tract and intended in the near future to install pumps for water purposes. Until such pumps were in working order it would be impossible to care properly for the tract of land known as Bushrod, and given to the city to be used as a public park. Under the present conditions it was estimated that it would cost in the neighborhood of $200 a month for the water supply were the park kept in good condition. Mr. Holmes said he did not agree with the decision of the officials. To sink a well thirty or forty feet, he declared, would give all the water necessary at small expense. The speaker thought that the first ward voters were not receiving fair treatment. In that ward, he insisted, there is more legitimate building than in any other ward in the city, but the city government is doing nothing for it. Bushrod park has been used for the convenience of a private construction company for some time, he said, and citizens get no satisfaction with all their asking, but are continually put off with excuses.

A resolution was introduced by Secretary Carr, requesting Councilman McAdam to introduce into the council a resolution of intention of sidewalking both sides of Telegraph avenue from Fortieth street to the Berkeley line.

A resolution was introduced for the renumbering and renaming of the streets so that one continuous street will have the same name or number.

Resolutions were passed endorsing the carrying of the bonds providing for the sanitary and storm outlets.

A motion was carried asking that the Traction Company's attention be called to the crossings at Fifty-fifth street and Telegraph avenue, and also at Thirty-fourth and Adeline streets.

Mrs. Barrie was recently granted a new trial of the divorce case filed against her by her husband, a decision having been given in his favor.

AMUSEMENTS.

"When Johnny Comes Marching Home" is in the last nights of its phenomenally successful run at Idora Park. The last matinees will be given on Saturday and Sunday, and parents should not fail to take the young folks to see this charming and novel patriotic opera.

On Monday night the management promises a magnificent revival of the ever-beautiful opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore," by those brilliant writers, Gilbert and Sullivan. The charm of this clever satirical work never grows old and people who call it a "chestnut" are always delighted when they hear the tuneful strains and the remarkably clever libretto, for in its line "Pinafore" is truly a classic.

It will be staged in splendid style and the cast will include Sybil Page as Josephine, Hope Mayne as Little Buttercup, Ferris Hartman as Sir Joseph Porter, Eugene Weiner as Ralph Rackstraw, Arthur Cunningham as the handsome captain, and Joe Fogarty as Dick Deadeye.

The smaller parts will be filled with the capable members of this exceptionally strong company, and a new comer named McFadden will assume the basso role of the boatswain. There will be some novel sailor dances introduced and Manager Greenbaum promises a production fully equal to any yet give at the park.

After "Pinafore" that gem of French opera comique, "Giroflo Giroflo," will be given and then comes the mammoth production of "Robin Hood."

The sale of seats for "Pinafore" begins today at Sherman, Clay & Co.'s, Thirteenth and Broadway, Oakland.

PRAISE FOR THE SHERIFF

Barnet Given Encomiums by Erstwhile Prisoner in County Jail.

Charles D. Lowrie, who has been convicted on a charge of burglary and who lost an appeal but a few days ago, later being sentenced to fifteen years in San Quentin, has written a letter to Sheriff Barnet, which he signs "A Prisoner," which is full of praise for the manner in which the county jail is at present being conducted.

"Awaken a man's self respect and he will rise to the demands of it no matter how low he may be," writes this prisoner. He is at present a victim of consumption, this dread disease having been contracted shortly before his arrest. The letter in full follows:

A TRIBUTE.

A jail is a sad place at best, but the personality of the jailer always has a whole lot to do with the degree of sadness which permeates the atmosphere around any particular one. A sheriff who has the highest good of all the community at heart, a sheriff who is a man as well as an officer, will look out for the well being of the unfortunate under-dog just as much and as earnestly as he will look out for the interests of the taxpayer. The man who gets in jail is not always a helpless case. Some good men get into jail occasionally just as surely as some bad men get a strong standing and respected membership in the church occasionally. The officer who is ever seeking the good in a man while rigidly condemning and stamping out the bad is worthy of the highest respect. Such a man is Sheriff Frank Barnet.

OBSERVED MUCH.

The writer has been confined in the county jail more than a year during Mr. Barnet's incumbency of the sheriff's office and in that time has observed many things. He has observed, not as a trusty, not as a favored one (there are no favored ones), but as an ordinary prisoner. The sheriff, in addition to affording the citizens of the county better protection from the criminal class, has also improved the conditions of the jail until it is a model institution of its kind in so far as the obsolete style of construction will allow. In bringing about these improvements, much credit also belongs to the chief jailer, P. L. White.

It is not very often a prisoner has a good word to say about his jailers, but when he has it may be depended upon as being sincere and as having foundation in fact. The prisoner who will willfully misrepresent facts, and at the expense of his fellow prisoners, in order to curry favor for himself, is not only despised by all with whom he comes in contact, but opens the way for the other inmates of the jail to make life very miserable for him. So, as one on the inside, as one who places himself in jeopardy of such results of misrepresentation, the present scribe fearlessly states that the Alameda county jail as now conducted is worthy of the approbation of all citizens.

DECIDED CONTRAST.

In decided contrast to former conditions, the prisoner at present receives a plentiful supply of wholesome food. Not the food he might choose for himself if he were able to do so, but nevertheless wholesome, and enough of it. And what is of vastly more importance to the man who is unable to supervise the preparation of the food himself, it is prepared in a careful and cleanly manner, and is well cooked. This is very seldom the case in jails. The writer has conversed with hundreds of men concerning the food served in county jails throughout the country, and has learned that in most instances good food is spoiled by the laziness and autocracy of a prisoner cook.

For it is a marked characteristic of prisoners, unused as they are to exercising authority, that a position of some petty importance in a jail generally "swells their heads" so badly that the other prisoners get some of the ache. At the Alameda county jail the prisoner cook is under the daily supervision of the chief jailer, a condition which should prevail in all jails if such happy results are worth anything.

THE CLOTHING.

And not only is the food and the preparation of it a vast improvement over former conditions, but if a prisoner is in need of clothing, he also gets attention in that respect. The citizens of a community do not put a man in jail with no concern as to whether he gets in filth and indecency or not. Unfortunately many sheriffs and jailers thus interpret the composite citizen mind. But Sheriff Barnet and Jailer White think differently. They are alive to the fact that this is the twentieth century, not the nineteenth, nor yet the eighteenth nor seventeenth.

If the prisoner is barefooted he gets shoes. If he comes in a tramp, with all his worldly possessions on his back, he is cleaned up, supplied with necessary clothing, and treated like a man whether he is one or not. And such treatment often makes men out of bums. Because a man is a bum or a criminal is no reason why he must always be one. Awaken a man's self respect and he will rise to the demands of it no matter how low he may be. There is always the possibility of improvement in every man.

DISPELS GLOOM.

Another thing which has helped to dispel the dank atmosphere of gloom from the vicinity of the jail is the welcome and the encouragement which the sheriff and jailer have extended to those good people who are ever seeking to better the moral and mental condition of the weak and erring. No distinctions of creed or belief mar the gentlemanly treatment which is accorded all who wish to speak to the prisoners on religious or ethical subjects. No doubt the people at large would be very much astounded to know of the amount of permanent good which has been done along these lines at the county jail during the past year or so.

As one who has been in daily contact with the prisoners, as one who has heard their conversations and seen their petitions, the writer knows what he is talking about. Much good has been accomplished. Sentiment may be the last ingredient to mix in for the rebuilding of a fallen man, but it is a necessary ingredient just the same.

COUNTY FORTUNATE.

As one who expresses the opinions of scores of prisoners who have passed through the jail during the past fifteen months, the writer would say that the county of Alameda is fortunate in having a man for sheriff who is able to treat the under dog with kindness and consideration, and without adding to the burden of the honest and law abiding portion of the public, a rare combination of desirable qualifications for public officials in these strenuous times.

Long prosper Sheriff Barnet, gentleman and every man's friend.

Western Pacific Company Attempts to Buy Right of Way in Fruitvale.

FRUITVALE, July 26.—The franchise granting the Western Pacific Company right of way on Putnam street, was to have been signed by the trustees last Monday, but the company's respresentatives asked that it be left till the Monday following, as they were not ready to sign.

Since that time, they have made offers to property holders in the center of the line of blocks between Putnam and Washington streets. Should the company obtain this strip, the line would intersect Fruitvale avenue at the place where the Cedar Brook hotel now stands.

Final action on the franchise will probably be taken next Monday.
